BRITISH SMASH NAZI COUNTERATTACK

RUSSIAN TANKS CHECK NAZIS IN BELGOROD AREA

Soviet Counterattacks Meet Success with Recapture of Some Villages.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, July 15 — Counter-attacking Soviet tanks, supported by mobile artillery, traded blows with German tank and infantry forces in the Belgorod sector of the Russian front yesterday with increasing local successes for the Russians, front line dispatches said today.

The Russians said they had beaten off stubborn attacks which the Germans launched almost incessantly in some sectors around Belgorod and had recaptured several villages as their counter-blows got under way.

For the second successive day, meanwhile, the Nazi attack stalled at the northern end of the 200-mile Orel-Kursk-Belgorod front along which the Germans launched their offensive 11 days ago. As the midnight Soviet communique expressed it, the Germans "did not undertake any attacks" in the Orel-Kursk sector yesterday.

(German broadcasts recorded in London said the Russians themselves were attacking near Orel and had broken through the Nazi lines east and north of the city by "sheer weight of numbers." The Russians later were driven back and the gaps sealed, the broadcast said."

In the fighting yesterday around Belgorod, the Red army was said to have knocked out 100 German tanks, shot down 47 planes and killed more than 2,000 of the enemy. Aerial engagements elsewhere brought the day's bag of Nazi planes to 158, the Russians said.

Yesterday's engagements brought German losses, as tabulated in Soviet communiques, to more than 40,000 killed, about 1,392 planes downed and 2,919 tanks destroyed since the start of the summer campaign.

Prisoner Says Hitler Gave Victory Order

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, July 15 — The Soviet press quoted a captured German officer today as saying Adolf Hitler had issued an order at the outset of the present Nazi offensive in Russia, declaring that "this blow must be of decisive importance — it must be the turning point of the war — the last great battle before German victory."

The press accounts said the German, a lieutenant, had slipped across no man's land recently at night to surrender because he was convinced the German offensive against Russia would fail and that Germany woulde be defeated in two to six months.

HIGHER WHEAT PRICE PLEA GIVEN BROWN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15 — Wheat states senators carried their appeal for assurance of a parity price on the 1944 wheat crop to Price Administrator Prentiss Brown today with a request for removal of "the present unlawful ceiling on flour."

Senator Reed (R-Kan) said a letter had been signed by 116 senators including Ohio's Harold Burton, advising Brown that "any encouragement offered to the wheat farmer to increase his planting for 1944 harvest must come from administrative sources."

Asserting that "time is the essence in this situation," because some of the wheat will be sowed as early as September, the senators observed that "obviously, not even action of the congress, when it reassembles in September, could possibly reach this situation in time to accomplish anything."

"There is ample authority," the letter said, "to offer the wheat farmer the desirable incentives to increase his acreage.

"The administrative authority can, without congressional action or legal proceedings, remove the present unlawful ceiling on flour, which is the controlling factor in the farmer's market price.

Akron Car and Bus Lines, Rubber Plant Hit by Strikes

War Workers Stranded as Transportation Employes Stage Unannounced Labor Stoppage.

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., July 15—War workers in the rubber capital were forced to find other means of transportation to their jobs today after CIO bus and street car operators walked out in protest over a war labor board panel recommendation.

Another work stoppage by 120 bandroom employes at the General Tire & Rubber Co. forced a shutdown of the entire truck tire division because of a shortage of materials.

The transit strike caused no appreciable reduction in attendance at the major rubber companies. Goodyear Aircraft Corp. estimated absenteeism at three per cent, while Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and B. F. Goodrich Co. said a few workers were absent. Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. reported some workers missing from their jobs but production was normal. The effect of the transit strike at General could not be estimated because of the work stoppage there.

The bus and street car operators left their jobs after a WLB panel refused to recommend a requested hourly wage increase from 86½ cents to $1.25.

The union had originally requested an average hourly wage increase from 86½ cents to $1.25 but the request became invalid after President Roosevelt issued his "hold the line order" and was not included in the present issues, the regional WLB said.

The WLB panel recommended time and one-half pay for all hours over 42½ a week. The union seeks time and one-half pay after 40 hours.

The panel also recommended that the operators be paid for all waiting time between runs in excess of three hours. The union asks payment for all waiting time.

A one-week vacation after one year of service and a two-week vacation after the third year of service, were also recommended by the panel. The unionists request a one-week vacation after the first six months of service and two weeks after the first year. A pay increase of $5 a month was recommended for dispatchers. The panel refused to recommend company checkoff of union dues but urged the issue be reconsidered to recommend operators be paid after six months and also refused time and a half for six holidays.

Ignore Pleas

Ignoring pleas of their leaders in a stormy early morning session, approximately 200 unionists refused to take their street cars and buses from the Akron Transportation Co. car barns at 4 a. m.

DECISIVE BLOW TO FALL SOON

Americans, Australians Closing in on Jap Garrison in New Guinea.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, July 15 — American and Australian troops in the New Guinea theater, keying their attack to the continuing All-American drive against Munda 700 miles to the east, are closing in on Japanese positions in the Kubo area "for decisive action."

This new offensive, announced in a special statement tonight from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters, was said by an official spokesman to be designed to clear the long-contested Mubo zone of all enemy troops and pin the Japanese back to their lines around Salamaua, on the eastern New Guinea shoreline 12 miles to the north.

Strongpoint Captured

As a preliminary success, the allied forces captured Green Hill, one of the key strongpoints in the Mubo defense system. In addition, an enemy force of "medium size" has been cut off at Mubo.

Allied patrols were reported engaged in intermittent clashes with the Japanese north of Salus lake, which is only seven miles south of Salamaua, the center of enemy strength in New Guinea.

The pattern of extermination now launched by the allies at Mubo followed closely that already unfolding before the Japanese airbase of Munda, on New Georgia island in the central Solomons.

Both had their precedents in the campaigns of last winter to eliminate the enemy from Buna, New Guinea, and from Guadalcanal. The Munda action, at least, had even greater hopes for quick success.

Barges Smashed

The Japanese defenders of Buna, who faced a less formidable American air force, prolonged the fight with men and supplies sneaked to them at night on coastal barges. The enemy tried the barge method yesterday in the Munda sector, with dire results.

Our alert Mitchell bombers spotted two big enemy barges above Munda in the Blackett strait. Their bombs destroyed them. North of there off Vella Lavella island, Mitchells also sank an enemy cargo boat.

GOOD SHOOTING, BOYS!

Yanks Fire 88 Rounds To Bag 13 Jap Planes.

By The Associated Press

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, July 15—Marine corps anti-aircraft gunners protecting Rendova island used only 88 rounds of ammunition to shoot down 12 Japanese bombers and one Zero on the afternoon of July 4, setting what is believed to be a record for economy of fire.

Sgt. William S. Frank, a Marine combat correspondent, reported today on the outstanding success of this Fourth of July show. He said the guns got the range with their first bursts, and within a few minutes had destroyed all but four in a formation of 16 fighter-escorted enemy bombers. American fighter planes knocked down the rest.

402 KILLED IN TURIN

By The Associated Press

The Rome radio, in a broadcast recorded by The Associated Press, quoted the Italian communique today as saying 402 persons were killed and 601 injured in Monday night's raid on Turin, in northwestern Italy, by RAF home-based bombers.

SMASH BLOW AT FOE STRUCK BY LT. SWENEY

Has Outstanding Role in U. S. Attack on Japs in Chinese Ports.

Credited with delivering one of the heaviest blows of the war against Japanese shipping is a Marion bombardier who recently accompanied one of two waves of American Liberator bombers Monday in attacks on Hongay and Campha, ports in Kwang-Tung province in southeastern China.

He is First Lt. Busby W. Sweney of the Army Air Corps, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Sweney of 627 Pearl street. Lt. Sweney, according to an Associated Press news story today by Thoburn Wiant, far-eastern war correspondent, was the bombardier in a plane under the command of Major Henry S. Brady Jr., 25, of Columbia, S. C., which sank a 4,000 ton naval auxiliary vessel and a 4,000 ton freighter.

"There was a terrific explosion after the bombs hit the auxiliary ship," Lt. Sweney said. "Some of the crew got away in a lifeboat. I scored a direct hit on the stern of the freighter. The debris flew in all directions, covering a wide area of the sea," the Marion bombardier was quoted by Wiant as saying after the successful completion of the bombing mission.

Power Plant Destroyed

The same group of Liberators in which Lt. Sweney flew and which were commanded by Maj. Brady also destroyed the main power plant at Hongay, 30 miles northeast of Haiphong, then dived to an altitude of only 25 feet and strafed to pieces a Japanese seaplane tied to the dock at Hongay.

Accompanying the flight in which Lt. Sweney participated was another wave of bombers commanded by Major Walter S. Beat, 24, of St. Petersburg, Fla. All told, the two flights sank three enemy vessels, aggregating 14,000 tons, at the two southern China shipping centers.

Letters Received

Mr. and Mrs. Sweney last heard from Lt. Sweney last Friday. Two letters, written two weeks earlier, were received at that time. In these letters he told his parents he had taken part in numerous small-scale raids and had only recently completed a trip to India with "the major," who is believed to be Major Brady.

Lt. Sweney told his parents that he had recently received a letter from the girl friend of a pilot-acquaintance killed in a recent crash. He told his parents: "This is only one of all the heart-aches war brings and that's why I feel so good when I trip the switch to blast some of Tojo's stooges to hell. I've a lot of scores to even up with them for a few guys who were of the best that I've ever met, so long as God's willing.

"I'll do my share and more too, if need be, to blast the whole Jap race to kingdom come. They tell us not to breed hatred but at times it's a pretty big order to swallow. But the sooner we beat them down the better I'll like it."

Movies Help

He also said, "We're having movies regularly now but most of them I'm seeing for the third and fourth time. But even that is O. K. with me. It sort of helps the local morale to see a good-looking white gal being kissed by Don Ameche or Clark Gable. What we wouldn't do for a few minutes at home with that "certain one."

A brother of Lt. Sweney's, Kenneth J. F. Sweney, recently completed a six months Army air corps course at State College, Miss., and is now being transferred elsewhere.

Lt. Sweney enlisted in the air corps in the summer of 1941 and was called to active duty on Dec. 12, five days after the Jap's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. He first reported to Fort Hayes in Columbus and later to King City, Calif. He was unable to meet the air corps' qualifications for pilot training and shortly afterward was transferred to the Santa Ana, Calif., replacement training center. He signed up for training as an air corps bombardier and began training at Albuquerque, N. M. He was graduated from there last Aug 15. He was assigned to overseas shortly after spending a furlough with his parents in January and left from a west coast port on Feb. 18. He was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant effective June 1.

Only once since he has been on duty in China has he met up with a Marion soldier. On April 15 he ran into Jack Hedges, son of Court Reporter and Mrs. Robert Hedges of 184 Wildwood court.

Invasion of Italy May Not Be Next Step for Allies

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Increased axis resistance is reported from Sicily today but the incubation of the allied invasion has proceeded far enough so that we can do no harm by counting that chicken and looking about for other fields to conquer.

There seems to be a widespread public expectation here at home that the next major venture of the beautifully synchronized United Nations fighting machine will be occupation of the Italian mainland. Indeed, a Madrid dispatch this morning says the Germans believe this will be the program if experience in Sicily leads the allies to think Italy is ripe for the plucking. The Nazis are said to be rushing preparation of defenses in northern Italy.

A drive into Italy could happen, of course, but so could one or more of several other things. As a matter of fact, this uncertainty in itself represents a tactical triumph for the allies. They've so cleverly mixed the pieces of the jig-saw puzzle of invasion that the axis has been wholly unable to fit it together this far. Even after it was perfectly clear that Sicily was to be one of the first points of attack, Berlin and Rome were fooled as to the exact time and place of landing.

Montgomery's Hint

And in the heat of operations in Sicily the hocus-pocus has been continued. The great Montgomery, Cromwellian leader of the famous British Eighth army, issued an order of the day to his troops declaring that "the time has now come to carry the war into Italy and into the continent of Europe."

Was he naively giving away the secret at last, or was he sticking his tongue in his cheek and leading the Hitlerites up the alley? Well, I've encountered Montgomery personally and know

OPA Head Reports Beef Situation Now Improving

Brown Has Little To Say on Resignation of Maxon, His No. 2 Man in Price Control Agency.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15 — Price Administrator Prentiss Brown predicted today that beef-hungry civilians would receive increased supplies as the result of a heavy movement of livestock to market and said the pleasure driving ban in the east would be lifted for "A" card holders "as soon as possible."

Brown also told a press conference:

1. The price of corn will remain at present levels. He said corn is now moving to market under the present price regulation now that "uncertainty" has been eliminated by the house agriculture committee's refusal to require higher prices, as proposed by the senate.

2. There is no "present move" to place ceilings at the live animal level on beef, because OPA wants to give the industry "every chance to work out the problem" and a beef ceiling would be "most difficult to work out."

3. He now is discussing with food administrator Marvin Jones a proposed maximum price on live hogs, but declined to predict whether it would be put into effect.

4. The oil situation is better, the war demand remaining the uncertain factor in the situation. Brown said he had always opposed the pleasure driving ban, "except and unless absolutely necessary," feeling that "A" card holders should be permitted to use their small rations as they see fit. The pleasure driving ban in the northeastern states will be lifted as soon as possible, but holders of "B," "C" and "T" books must continue to use their rations for specific purposes.

Brown declined to discuss "background and reasons" behind a statement by his one-time close friend, Lou R. Maxon, who quit last night as deputy administrator—with the assertion that Houdini himself could not untangle OPA's red tape.

To the question "has OPA a policy?" Brown replied.

"It has. It is clear and unmistakable. Its policy is to bend every effort to comply with the

NEW SELLING CODE REGULATES STORES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15 — A wartime code of selling practices, aimed at discouraging excess buying and thus heading off the rationing of clothes, was laid down for textile dealers today by War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson.

The declaration of policy dooms for the duration all "scarcity" advertising and such remarks by store clerks as "you had better buy several of these — we may not get any more."

Even the time-honored price comparison appeal—"our price $8.95, regularly $8.95"—must be eliminated from advertising unless the sale is a genuine clearance, and the word "sale" must be shunned. The only permitted price comparison is with the government ceiling.

The code was worked out with representatives of large and small retailers by Arthur D. Whiteside, director of WPB's office of civilian requirements.

"This is the most important and broadest step in individual commercial self-regulation ever attempted in this country," Whiteside declared in telegrams to merchants' organizations.

The government will not police stores for enforcement. Compliance is voluntary so long as the plan works, Whiteside's telegrams hinted at the alternative —government control of selling. He said he was certain retailers would successfully conserve civilian supplies by the program and thus "eliminate the necessity for stringent regulations."

The policy declaration makes the flat statement, "the war production board has established the fact that there is an adequate supply of textiles to meet essential civilian needs."

Elyrian To Handle Big Liquor Transaction

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 15—David A. Godes, Elyria liquor dealer, has informed the state liquor department he proposes to sell Ohio permitholders 27,500 cases of assorted out-of-state spirits—a transaction which would involve more than $1,000,000, liquor director Don Fisher said today.

Fisher said the Elyrian, who previously engineered a deal bringing 4,000 cases of liquor into Ohio for a Lorain county permitholder pool, indicated he would import the stock under liquor board regulation No. 18, a procedure in which the department purchases the merchandise at the retailers' request.

MORE BEEF COMING IN NEXT FEW MONTHS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 15—More roast beef and steaks will be available to civilians and the armed forces over the next few months, P. O. Wilson, secretary of the National Live Stock Producers association, asserted today.

But the question worrying cattle men, Wilson added, was the prospect beyond that period — whether enough cattle would be placed in feed lots thoughout the corn belt to produce the steaks which will be wanted this summer and next year.

Wilson, commenting on news dispatches from Washington saying the OPA was developing a plan to bring about an increase in meat rations, said the price-fixing agency "cannot prevent beef supplies from expanding, even if it wanted to.

"The claim of the OPA that it is developing a plan to increase supplies is simply an effort to take credit for the normal expansion in receipts which occurs from mid-July until the end of the year."

Spoilage of Potato Shipment Is Reported

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 15—The federal food distribution administration said today 211,500 pounds of potatoes would be sold for salvage because part of them had decayed in transit to an Athens, O., storage plant.

E. H. Bagley, assistant marketing specialist for the FDA here, said the spoilage ran about 10 per cent in 1200 of the 100-pound bags and 2 to 3 per cent in 915 bags.

The FDA bought the potatoes in North Carolina to help relieve a temporary surplus and intended to store them for future use by the armed forces or for civilian distribution, Bagley explained.

YANK TROOPS FORGE AHEAD IN RAPID ADVANCE

Germans Shift Forces in Effort To Check Gen. Montgomery at Catania.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 15 — The jaws of an allied clamp have taken a deeper bite on eastern Sicily after a furious battle in which the British Eighth army hurled back a powerful counter-attack by Nazi armored forces, headquarters reports said today.

The greatest advance was scored by the American Seventh Army, driving inland on a line parallel with the British east coast push.

Led by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., the Americans dug into the Ragusa-Vizzini sector, moved forward some six or seven miles, captured another important airdrome and took important heights.

Another Italian general, commanding the 4th Napoli division, surrendered with his staff south of Vizzini, Vizzini is about 25 miles west and slightly south of captured Augusta, and about the same distance northeast of Gela.

Hurling itself forward against sterner resistance, the British Eighth army of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery drove to the town of Brucoli, four miles north of the port of Augusta after weathering a crisis yesterday in which the German armored forces mounted a powerful counterattack and actually reached the harbor at one time.

Counterattack Successful

A British brigade in the strategic harbor city, under allied domination since Monday evening, was isolated temporarily by the furious enemy thrust, but the British counterattacked and drove on to Brucoli.

Today's communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said the British gained "some miles" yesterday and that Augusta was firmly in allied hands.

This concerted assault by enemy forces in which the crack German armored Hermann Goering division took part indicated the Italian and German commanders had shifted the bulk of their forces from positions confronting the Americans in order to block the British path up the east coast.

The Goering outfit previously had received a bad mauling at the hands of the Americans.

The latest developments indicated the axis commanders had decided to commit their main forces in battle to hold the British and Canadians below Catania, 35 miles up the coast from Augusta.

New waves of British and American parachute and glider-borne troops had carried out what the communique called successful operations, and it was disclosed that units of the French army operating in the battle zone are Gouma, the terror-inspiring pigtailed warriors who fought so effectively along the Mediterranean coast in Tunisia.

Nazis in Lentini

The Germans are believed to have concentrated considerable strength, including tanks and artillery, at the town of Lentini, 13 miles south of Catania and at a road junction where the Catania plain begins.

Hard fighting can be expected before the capture of Lentini takes place, it was said. This center of resistance is about five miles from the coast.

(An NBC correspondent, in a radio report from a British cruiser off eastern Sicily, said the British had captured both Lentini and nearby Carlentini.

(Another bombardment of Catania from the sea, after an earlier shelling the previous dawn, was carried out last night, he said. The bombardment sent up a solid wall of flame and smoke along 20 miles of the Sicilian coast, he added, and four and six-inch guns were wrenched from their shore emplacements.

Yanks Move Forward

The Americans went forward from the western horn of the allied front through hilly and difficult country to a strategic area protecting the British flank and at the same time threatening the enemy's rear if he offers battle on the Catania plain.

Capture of Vizzini would give the forces of Gen. Patton control of the first important east-west road north of the coastal network of communications.

Some of the Italian prisoners complained that they had had numerous casualties caused by running into their own minefields.

Hundreds of heavy and medium allied bombers assailed Messina, which stands on the Sicilian side of the water gate to the mainland, in this theater's greatest aerial assault.

GUARDSMEN LEARN TO HANDLE MOBS

By The Associated Press

McARTHUR, O., July 15 — One hundred Army military policemen are training Ohio's State Guard and Naval Militia at near-by Camp Zaleski in mob control and the handling of dangerous crowds.

The soldiers, members of Co. B, 737th military police battalion stationed at Cincinnati, came here as the second week of the guard's field training got under way, showing the home front army how to quiet unruly groups.

The M.P.'s demonstrated the spectacular squad wedge, based on tactics of the bone-crushing flying wedge formation which attained fame on the gridiron.

The Army men commanded by First Lieut. Nefus S. Newman also gave expert advice in the handling of all types of infantry weapons. The soldiers will instruct during two days of each eight-day encampment period. The field training continues for four more weeks.

The Third Infantry regiment of the OSG under the command of Col. Emerson Woolf of Akron now is at the camp. Men from these northern Ohio cities comprise the unit: Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Warren, Cleveland, Norwalk, Mansfield, Findlay, Napoleon, Toledo and Bucyrus.

ANOTHER GENERAL QUITS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 15—Another Italian general, the commander of the 54th Napoli division, has surrendered to the allies, along with his staff. The surrender took place south of Vizzini.

President Signs New War Pension Measure

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15—Omnibus veterans' legislation, including provision for widows of men killed in the service in wartime, became law today with President Roosevelt's signature.

The veterans—irrespective of age—will receive The old rates were for those under 50 years of age and $45 for those over 50.

A widow with one child will receive $65, with $13 more for each additional child. Old rates varied according to the children's ages.

The veterans' administration estimated the increased rates would cost $4,536,000 for the first year of operation.

The measure sets new peacetime-service-connected death pension rates at approximately 75 per cent of the amounts authorized for wartime-service-connected death.

Willkie, Stalin Smooth Path of Romantic Couple

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 15 — Premier Joseph Stalin and Wendell Willkie have co-ordinated in a different type of international relations — the romance of an American newspaper correspondent and a Russian girl, it was revealed today.

Willkie confirmed the story — and kept the names of the principals a secret — as follows.

The correspondent and the girl were seen together in Moscow. Some thought it was romance, but to Russian officials it looked as if the correspondent might be trying to obtain information from her.

Within a short time she was removed from Moscow, apparently slated for Siberia.

The newspaperman returned to the United States and appealed to Willkie, who called Stalin on June 14.

"Anything you can do to facilitate this union I will personally appreciate, for I have absolute confidence and I am willing to vouch for ——— completely."

Stalin's reply, five days later, read:

"I am glad to inform you that your request regarding ——— will be fulfilled. The decision was made as a special exception on your recommendation and vouching."

The correspondent is returning to Russia, Willkie said, to marry the girl.

ONE VACANCY ON STAFF OF PLEASANT TWP. SCHOOL

Sept. 7 Considered by Board for Opening Rural Marion Co. School.

The Pleasant township board of education has filled all faculty positions with the exception of the social science department, E. E. Banning superintendent, reported. This vacancy was caused by the resignation of Miss Fern Patterson, who has taught at Pleasant for the last three years. She plans to enlist in the Marine corps.

Miss Ruth Young, a Pleasant graduate, has been employed to teach biology and science. Miss Young will graduate from Marion college at Marion, Ind., in August.

Bus routes will be changed slightly to eliminate all extra mileage possible to conform with war-time restrictions on bus travel. Sept. 7 is being considered as the opening date of the coming school year.

King George Ousts Duce from Sicilian Walls

By The Associated Press

AN ALLIED FORCE COMMAND POST, July 15—Slogans in some villages have blotted or scrawled out "Evviva Duce and "Evviva Mussolini," signs on walls and buildings and substituted "Evviva George VI," British officers returning from Sicily told me today.

Other parts of the island's population seem entirely inert and apathetic to the invasion and uninterested in the allied troops establishing themselves.

Peasants and village folk sit on the pavements as troops come in to drink and smoke and hardly look up as they ride past on their mules.

They are not hostile when questioned but show a marked antipathy to the Fascist regime and especially to the Germans.

Nelson Recommends Advertising To Help Meet National War Goal

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 15—Donald M. Nelson urged American business yesterday to throw its weight through war message advertising into the effort to shake off a production slump—due in part, he said, to "a false and dangerously premature feeling that the war is in the bag."

The war production board (WPB) chairman, participating with other high officials in a broadcast promoting the war advertising council's drive for the war message in every ad, disclosed that June war production totaled $6,500,000,000 made up of approximately a million dollars.

"In order to meet the urgent demands of the armed services, our production goals were set for 1943," Nelson said. "We are not currently meeting those goals from month to month. We are gaining in total output but that output is not rising fast enough to meet the steady rise in our production goals.

May Record Poor

"Production in May was unsatisfactory. Production in June, although better than in May, still did not show much improvement.

"I want to state bluntly, here and now, that if we are to meet our overall schedules for 1943 the American industrial front faces a staggering job in the months ahead."

Nelson, pointing to a 40 per cent increase in our rate production in the first half of the year and a 25 per cent increase in munitions output, said the nation was doing a good job, but "not good enough" to meet the military needs of the United Nations.

Several factors are responsible, he said—one of the factors is a shortage of industrial manpower. Another is absenteeism. Another is strikes. Another is a false and dangerously premature feeling that the war is in the bag."

The government is dealing with these problems, Nelson said, but needs help in making the civilian population understand the need of intensifying the war effort. Advertising has helped generate enthusiasm for special phases of war activity, Nelson observed, "but that is not enough."

More Inspiration Needed

"More than inspiration is required. The American home front needs detailed and continuing information and instruction on every phase of its responsibilities."

Elmer Davis, director of war information, declared the military offensive could be expected to "grow swifter and sweeter, which means that we shall have to expend larger and larger amounts of materials and suffer heavier casualties."

"That means we need a better organized, more efficient home front," the OWI chief said. "Our Army and Navy have the tough part of the job, and they are doing all right. But it is up to the rest of us to help them just as much as we can.

"* * * shorten the war by one day, and you save $300,000,000; also, almost certainly, you will save hundreds or thousands of American lives."

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

The Star wishes again to remind its readers that publication cannot be granted to unsigned communications, especially those relating to vitally important subjects of a controversial nature. This rule must be observed in fairness to all persons and interests concerned.

WANTS STORES OPEN

Editor of The Star: I have read the letter put in about stores closing Wednesday afternoons. I agree the stores should keep open to give the public service. Marion as every one knows has a greater population of workers now than ever. Therefore it takes more time to serve them, war workers are asked to work six days a week, 8, 10 and 12 hours a day and most all of them work these hours. We don't get every Wednesday afternoon off.

No doubt it is tiresome to put in the hours in the stores. Just consider the hours the soldiers are putting in on the battle fronts to protect the freedom and rights you have today. I think because of the different shifts and hours and such little time to shop and you storekeepers want to be a little more in on the all-out war effort you will keep your place of business open as usual on Wednesday afternoons for the duration.

Scab Attacks Wheat Crop

May Cut Output in County 15 to 20 Per Cent Under Last Year's Mark, County Agent Estimates.

A probable 15 to 20% cut in the volume of wheat harvested in Marion county this year due to scab, a serious farm crop disease, is estimated by Arthur Smith, county agricultural extension agent.

Mr. Smith bases this estimate on the number of reports of scab in wheat fields of county farmers and the reports from other Ohio counties on the prevalence of the same disease. Agricultural agents from these other counties affected by scab have placed the decrease in the 1943 wheat crop from last year at between 25 and 30%. Mr. Smith, however, believes that the decline in this county will be about 10% less than those estimates.

Main cause of the scab plague, Mr. Smith explains, is unfavorable and moist weather conditions which Marion county has experienced throughout this spring and summer. Once the scab makes its first appearance in wheat fields, it is not likely to spread unless there are heavy rains. The disease has scattered in this county, Mr. Smith says, because of incessant rain.

How It Attacks

Scab gets into wheat, in the first place, usually from corn crops of a preceding season. Practically almost every case of scab is found in fields where wheat has been the immediate successor to corn. Farm experts explain that scab is not nearly as harmful to corn as it is to wheat. Scab effects corn in root organisms but to no serious extent. The disease, as a rule, remains ingrained in the field and "gets to" the next crop in the rotation system, which usually in Marion county is wheat. The scab then shrivels the wheat and ruins that crop before grain can be produced.

Mr. Smith said today that wheat harvesting had been delayed further this week because of the same old story, rain. However, yesterday proved to be an almost ideal day for combining and the county agent expressed the belief that much of the crop would be harvested today and the rest of this week if that sort of weather continued.

Rain during the planting and growing season might present county farmers with an additional problem concerning quality of the crop. He said that ripening of wheat in parts of the county which have received the most rain will probably be delayed, thus prolonging the harvesting season. However, in sections where moisture has not been so great, harvesting may be of reasonably short duration.

10 Workers Signed Up

The labor side of wheat harvesting picture appears now to be brighter than ever before this year with the addition of nine new part time workers and one full time worker for posts on Marion county farms this week. An appeal was issued by O. E. Barks, special county farm labor assistant, about three and a half weeks ago for emergency farm workers to relieve the serious shortage on county farms.

Important harvesting work was pending at the time of the appeal and it did not look as if there would be sufficient workers to produce crops, all-important to the physical well being of civilians and servicemen alike. Fears mounted last week when only three part time laborers had been procured through Mr. Bark's appeal.

With a sigh of partial relief, Mr. Barks said today that six high school boys and three adult men answered a last ditch call for emergency workers this week. This brings to 12 the number of such workers registered within the last 25 days.

One steady worker was also placed on a farm in the northern section of the county last week. He is a man who, according to Mr. Barks, is well versed in farm chores and will be able to do work of any kind. Another experienced farm hand, former dairy farmer, could not be located last week as all dairy farms and plants in the county were in no need of emergency personnel.

More Urgently Needed

Mr. Barks emphatically says that no part time workers are needed. He explains that three crops, wheat, hay and oats, are likely to pile up on farmers within the next week and be ready for harvesting simultaneously.

Last week farm labor officials said that two crops, wheat and hay, would necessitate county farmers to double up this week. However, more rain caused further delay and now, instead of the two crops, the problem of having three at the same time may be staring farmers in the face.

The SmearCongress Campaign

CONGRESSMEN have been warned by Rep. Dirksen of Illinois to expect a smear campaign during their recess. It will be staged at public expense by the publicists of the New Deal. The purpose, of course, is to chasten congress by discrediting its members with their constituents while they are at home. Willing helpers in the campaign will be labor leaders sworn to get revenge for the anti-strike law, their first setback in 10 years of easy living. Arthur Krock, head of the New York Times Washington bureau, also suspects the administration will take advantage of the recess to attack congress.

First overt sign of the smear is in the writings of New Deal apologists of a congressional recess at this time. "Are soldiers and sailors going to get two months' vacation with pay this summer?" sniffs one of these, in his most sarcastic manner. This is typical of what may be expected. Congress will be blamed for the confused handling of food distribution. It will be charged, in general, with the New Deal crime of questioning the infallibility of bureaucratic government. This is not to say that the smear will stick, but it is certain to be applied—indeed is already being applied.

The people who like to be fooled will get their chance.

Dividing Our Enthusiasm

THE embarrassment of being unable to watch two performances at the same time is made acute today by good news from the South Pacific. Under more ordinary circumstances, the whole country would be singing the praises of MacArthur and Halsey, instead of Eisenhower and his co-workers.

In what may be a more crucial action than invasion of Sicily, the United States has depleted by at least four more units a Japanese navy which Jane's "Fighting Ships" calls close to the point of fatal weakness. In the few days since the enemy has been trying desperately to relieve the pressure on his base at Munda, he has lost at least 13 cruisers and destroyers.

This means that in the war of attrition with Japan, the United States has scored another major triumph. The effect on balances of power is greater than the demonstration in the Mediterranean that Italy, which was never a first-class naval power, does not dare to expose its depleted navy to the forces invading its territory. With the Japanese navy depleted, too, the Axis does not possess strength where strength is needed most in a war of supply—on the high seas.

By dividing our enthusiasm, we can find at least as much to cheer about in the news from the Pacific as in the continued good news from the Mediterranean.

Canning Revival

THOUGH the art of canning never was lost—indeed, it was still growing by leaps and bounds—wartime necessity is producing a revival of interest.

Housewives and husbands who hadn't canned anything for years because it had become too cheap and easy to buy what was needed at the nearest grocery store are going back to their younger days when everybody canned from necessity. They are reading up on new wrinkles, including chiefly the pressure-cooking method, and wondering where they can beg or borrow a pressure cooker.

Younger women, who had played with canning, perhaps—sometimes not successfully—are reading books, attending lectures, obtaining first-hand help from mothers, mothers-in-law and neighbors. Without exception, everybody is trying to get a little closer to the glow of self-sufficiency that used to come during inspection of long cupboard shelves in the cellar lined with rows of neatly filled jars. then came during inspection of well stocked grocery stores and now, after rationing, must come from a combination of the two.

So They Say—

Our friends have long known what our enemies are learning today, that the promises of the United States are always kept and our pledges are always redeemed. — President Roosevelt.

We can look forward with confident hope to the time when all over the world the aggressors are driven to unconditional surrender — Winston Churchill.

It may well be that in the immediate future our fighting commanders will call upon us to move in behind a front line in Europe to provide relief to newly liberated peoples — Foreign Relief Director Herbert H. Lehman.

The ideal of a tailless type (plane), or true flying wing, has intrigued designers for many years. It is quite possible that persistent research can evolve a safe control for such a craft. —NACA Chairman J. C. Hunsaker

News Behind the News

President's Invisible Cabinet Directs Nation's Program of Domestic Economics.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, July 15 — The impression is smouldering among congressmen — from what they hear inside — that the Brown-Vinson-Jones regime is building a front for an invisible cabinet which really plans the domestic economy.

Mr. Roosevelt's repudiation of the subsidy plan has been attributed, for instance, to the cabinet. The congressmen make errors of a meeting at the White House, attended by the leading executive officials of the administration, at which administration policy on this subject was to be determined.

The nominal leaders, the men whose names are in the newspapers every day were not strong for White House espousal of the subsidy doctrine. The President sided against them however, and in favor of a quintet of officials whose names seldom reach the public eye.

Quiz Kids

These five, now frequently referred to as "the quiz kids," included Harry Hopkins, Ben Cohen, Judge Rosenman, Edward Pritchard and Richard Gilbert.

To establish further the omnipotence of this invisible five, a Democratic leader in Congress confided to his associates that Ben Cohen (who is Mr. Byrnes' legal advisor) wrote the first draft of FDR's veto of the commodity credit bill and its anti-subsidy provision.

There is even more direct evidence. The meat industry, including livestock men, drew up a plan which its leaders believed would help solve the situation. Among other things, they wanted government purchase of 10 to 45 per cent of all meat as a means of stabilizing prices and keeping them down.

They first received the approval of Chester Davis, then food administrator, and from him went to see Economic Stabilizer Fred Vinson. He passed them on to War Mobilizer Byrnes, who said the idea "sounded good," but he was operating under directives Byrnes suggested they see the President.

When they did, the President sent them back to Byrnes. Even then, Byrnes would only say:

"It is my duty to administer the program given to me."

The meat men thereupon had to conclude that the policy-makers of the government were not those whose names are on top, but no doubt the "quiz kids" of the invisible cabinet.

The public thus has a wholly wrong impression of the Washington domestic war setup. Many millions of words have been wasted in comment (some in this column) about the various changes made or still required at the top of various agencies, whereas the real makers of policy never had been changed and will never be.

This invisible cabinet, in the main, has been working behind Mr. Roosevelt for many years. Mr. Cohen was in NRA, Hopkins in WPA, and Rosenman at the President's elbow in the earliest stages of the New Deal.

Pritchard is only another name for Felix Frankfurter, inasmuch as he was a former secretary to the supreme court justice and a representative of that school of thought. Gilbert, special assistant to OPA's Prentiss Brown, is one of the old Henderson crowd, a New York lawyer who dabbled in economics.

Apparently, whenever the Knudsons and Nelsons are dropped or side-tracked in favor of the Byrnes and Vinsons, it only means a change of the figures in the show window, whereas the window dressers always remain the same. The President no doubt feels they represent what he wants in the way of economics with the piquant flavoring of reform politics.

Back Subsidy

In this instance, of course, the subsidy was backed—among all the pressure groups of political and economic influence—only by the CIO. The farmers did not want it. The packers did not want it. The consumers did not want it.

But the invisible cabinet thought it was a good idea and they seem to know year in and year out what the President will always take.

Betting here is that Food Administrator Marvin Jones will not last any longer than his predecessor, Chester Davis. Most officials give him a few months. The change of Davis for Jones, for instance, brought no change in the position of Pritchard, who was special assistant to both.

The only change here that would make any real difference now or hereafter would be in the invisible cabinet. There is no likelihood of that before Mr. Roosevelt himself changes or is changed.

Number One Leatherneck

Devil Dog of World War I Still Top Marine.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Feature Writer

MASTER SGT. LOU DIAMOND

WASHINGTON, July 15—He was a grizzled Devil Dog of World War I, one of the best soldier-trainers in the whole corps. At 52 he's still as hardy as most of the rugged youngsters in his platoon.

He was helping his outfit get loaded on ship when an officer suggested that 52 might be a bit old for front-line service, that perhaps it would be better if the Sergeant remained in the U. S. to use his valuable experience in training Marine recruits.

He exploded, and former fellow Marines of Master Gunnery Sergeant Leland "Lou" Diamond tell you that a Diamond explosion is something to behold. So when the ship shoved off for the South Pacific, old Lou was riding along with his boys.

Holds Citation

Now 53, and convalescing from malaria he is the cocky possessor of a citation from Maj. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift as "the ideal Marine" for his front-line conduct at Guadalcanal and Tulagi.

On the efficiency cards of the exacting Marine Corps, they rate 'em on the positive side as "good, very good, excellent, and outstanding. Sergeant Diamond had long been regarded as one of the better non-coms in the corps, his peacetime-service cards liberally sprinkled with "very goods" and "excellents."

But it took a situation where the going was the toughest—handling battle-inexperienced troops in jungle fighting with savage and crafty foes—to spur the old sergeant to his top performance. Every rating, except two, on his card for the Solomons campaign is "outstanding."

The two exceptions, executive and administrative, carry the notation "not observed" for the reason that he had no job to do in either of those fields. For "leadership of men," "tactical skill," "loyalty," "sound judgment" and several others he got the highest possible rating.

An officer who formerly had Diamond in his command says he was a "rootin'-tootin' 5 foot-10 inch, 180-pound husky" with tremendous pride in his outfit and great skill at teaching men how to use weapons, particularly mortars.

He ran his platoon with an iron fist and backed commands in an old-fashioned "whisky tenor" but was fiercely solicitous of the welfare of his boys. A former Toledo railway switchman, he is no "book psychologist" but is considered one of the best morale boosters in the business.

Enlisted in 1917

He constantly and cockily challenged fellow sergeants to compete with his platoon in marksmanship, long marching and various athletic contests. He is a bowling enthusiast and fond of all athletics.

Even after reaching his fifties he was a tough fellow with his fists. The battering he gave a much younger and bigger sergeant at Quantico is a major episode in Marine fisticuffs.

Diamond enlisted in the Marines in August, 1917, and fought in all the major American offensives of World War I, marching into Germany with the Army of Occupation. He was honorably discharged in 1919 but was like a fish out of water away from the Leathernecks.

He re-enlisted in 1921, saw service in China in the thirties and may see more there before this war is over. The latest report from his hospital is that old Lou has taken over command of his ward and no fellow patient seems disposed to challenge his leadership.

Safety Boxes in Use

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS — A shortage creeping up on the U. S. public will soon be found in safety deposit boxes. Wage earners clutching War Bonds in their hands have swarmed into banks and trust companies in recent months and rented safety boxes for the first time in their lives, reports the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

Prior to the outbreak of war, an estimated 50 per cent of the approximately 11,000,000 safety deposit boxes in the United States were rented. Today the occupancy figure is estimated at 75 to 80 per cent. By the year's end there will be no smaller boxes vacant in many regions, bank officials predict.

A BAD DAY FOR TYRANY

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, July 15, 1933.

At a special meeting of the city board of education Supt. George W. Bowman was given a five-year contract. Other action taken by the board included reduction of Marion city teacher's salaries from two to eight per cent, hiring of teachers for the next school term and approval of Sept. 11 for opening of the schools in the fall.

Dale Rhoads, county dog warden, reported that 21 unlicensed dogs have been killed in the last two weeks following heavy sheep killing in Prospect township.

Carl H. Kahler, 45, Hardin county farmer missing since May 1, was mysteriously returned to Kenton, where he told authorities how he had been held a captive in an abandoned mine for two months. Kahler said that his captors compelled him to dig holes in which they stored kegs and cases of whisky.

An unidentified youth, identified a few days later as Charles Hawkins, 18, of Whitehall, Mo., son of a Sparta, Tenn., physician, was killed when he fell beneath a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train at the West Center street crossing.

Wiley Post, 34-year-old Oklahoman, took off from Floyd Bennett Field and headed across the Atlantic ocean on the first leg of his attempted flight alone around the world. He was piloting Winnie Mae, the white and purple Lockheed in which he and Harold Gatty made their around-the-world flight in record time in 1931.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, July 15, 1923.

An electrical, hail and wind storm described as the most severe of the year swept over Marion county. Several homes were struck by lightning and the city's electricity was off for more than an hour in the afternoon as a result of 12 poles having been blown down along the circuit which entered Marion on Silver street.

Miss Ola Reynolds and George Lanius, both of Green Camp, were united in marriage at Zanesfield by Rev. A. L. Vadergriff, former Green Camp minister.

Churches of Christ of Crawford, Union and Marion counties held their annual meeting in the Chautauqua pavilion at Garfield park. D. N. Gillete of Bucyrus was elected president.

The Neidhart family held its annual reunion at Garfield park. John Neidhart was elected president.

The Marion Athletics' baseball team defeated Massillon in an extra-inning game at Lincoln park, 4 to 3. Jackman and Lawrence formed the battery for Marion.

Final services were held in the old edifice of the Wesley M. E. church at West Center street and Olney avenue preliminary to the congregation's removal to a new edifice on Olney avenue near Columbia street.

Today and Tomorrow

After Fascism Is Removed Italians Can Again Be Friends; Germany's Fate Different.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE BERLIN radio has been talking to the Italians on a subject about which the Nazis could not possibly speak truthfully. They have been telling the Italians what to expect if they surrender unconditionally.

Berlin knows that as a matter of conviction and interest the United Nations are bound to deal quite differently with the Italian nation than with the German. But Berlin cannot admit this. It must pretend that the fate of Italy is inseparable from the fate of Germany.

We intend to destroy the Fascist regime, which, by becoming the accomplice of Germany, has multiplied immeasurably the crimes it has committed on its own account against Frenchmen, Spaniards, Greeks, Yugoslavs, Albanians and Ethiopians. When Fascism is destroyed, the fate of Italy will be different from the fate of Germany.

The Italians will have noted that Berlin speaks of all manner of things except the immediate and main thing. It does not mention Fascism, or the declaration made by the president to the pope that "our soldiers have come to rid Italy of Fascism and all its unhappy symbols."

We know that Italy was not a menace, was, in fact, a good friend, before Fascism. We shall act on the belief that Italy can and will again be a good friend after Fascism is liquidated.

Conquest Ambition Is Target

This will not be the premise of our policy toward Germany. Though Nazism is evil incarnate, Nazism is the culmination of tendencies in Germany which are older than Hitler and may presumably survive him.

This is not the first but the second German war of world conquest, and therefore, though the conspicuous Nazis are killed, it will still be necessary to take strong measures for a considerable time against Germany until there is convincing evidence that the German ambition of conquest is dead.

The Berlin radio has told the Italians that we shall close many universities and forbid the teaching of classic history and literature which celebrate the historic greatness of Rome. On the contrary, we shall, by destroying Fascism, make it possible for the Italians to reopen their own universities and to restore them as seats of universal learning.

Nothing will more quickly revive the deep affection which civilized men have for Italy than the Italians should turn from the idiocies of the Fascist idealogy and the imported barbaric mythology, should turn back to the humanist, classical and universal tradition of Rome, Florence, Bologne, Padua, Perugia and Naples.

Humanism Is Allies' Answer

As for the dire threats from Berlin that we mean to close down the Italian industries and do all kinds of things to Italian agriculture; there is a simple and conclusive answer. As our troops march on Italian soil not the least of the preoccupations in Washington and London is how best to carry the burden of seeing to it that the Italians are adequately fed and supplied when we occupy Italy.

As for their empire, the simplest things to say is that Berlin is right here and that the Fascist empire is destroyed and will never be restored. But that a free Italy will be given the right to colonize peaceably in Africa is certain.

That right, however, will have to conform to the rights of others, the Greeks, for example, to whom the Italian nation owes in all justice moral and material reparation for having put up with and followed so long a band of criminal leaders.

Service Men's Letters Useful When Time Comes To Establish Claims for Their Disabilities.

I HAVE some information that should be treasured by all those with relatives in the armed forces. It may one day be of great value to some of the men after the war.

The government and the veterans administration ask for all kinds of proof to establish the time and place of disablement in the service. As a rule, the men write home to relatives, sweethearts or friends about such disablement at the time it occurs.

These persons should save the letters with the envelopes to establish dates and locations where the cause of disablement, injury or illness took place, with special reference to hospital treatment or hospitalization.

The letters should be placed in safety deposit boxes so there may be no chance of them becoming lost or destroyed. They will be invaluable later on to the men when applying for disability pensions or compensation.

This information comes to me from Frank C. Gilpin of Isaac Van Wert Post 178 of the American Legion at Van Wert, O., home of the sprightly Daily Times Bulletin in which my discourses appear. Mr. Gilpin is service officer of the post, his duties being concerned with rehabilitation and service work at the veterans of both world wars.

HIS experience has taught him the necessity for the data that soldiers' letters generally contain, though it may seem unimportant at the moment to both the letter writer and the receiver. He mentions the recent loss of a compensation case for a most worthy widow in his section that might have been won had there been a letter in existence from the soldier.

I am glad to pass Mr. Gilpin's tip along to my readers, and I cannot stress too strongly the responsibility of the relatives of service men in preserving the correspondence. It is an unfortunate fact that the official records on matters of this kind are often wholly inadequate. Many deserving veterans of other wars have been denied their rights because of this inadequacy.

The veterans of World War II come under the same laws and regulations as to compensation, pension, insurance, etc. as the veterans of World War I. Many of the former are being discharged for disability and sent home and the veterans of World War I are advising them to file their claims promptly lest they meet the difficulties of the oldsters who waited too long to file.

I HAVE before me a letter on this point from William E. Bradbury, service officer of the 23rd district department of Illinois of the American Legion, and also a member of a selective service board of Crawford county. He advises his fellow Legionnaires not only to assist disabled veterans in filing their claims promptly but to contact the widows and dependents and gold star mothers of the soldiers of this war and see that their rights are protected.

He mentions that these rights include insurance compensation, gratuity pay, the dead soldier's service pay, government headstones, government War Bonds and perhaps travel pay due the deceased. He tells the Legionnaires to go fully into each case, not to be critical of any but to file all impartially and let the government pass on them.

Mr. Bradbury sums up the trusting attitude of the soldiers in the government which has brought woe to the veterans of all our wars when he says, "The wounded men will, like our buddies, be very proud of their wounds, and won't want to admit anything, feeling that their government will take care of them when dire need arises, but the government after all is made up of human beings and if these men wait, these human beings that pass on their cases will say, "If this man was so badly hurt in service where has he been all these years that he hasn't written or applied for something?"

James E. Reed, chairman of the club's annual steak fry reported that the event this year would necessarily be "beefless" and suggested that either a basket picnic or a "twilight rally" be substituted for the duration of the war. The club decided upon the "twilight rally", and President Carl Lehner appointed Don Williamson, James Reed and Marion Hinklin as the general arrangements committee. Gene Williams, Nelson Irvin and Velma Boxwell comprise the committee to arrange entertainment. The social part of the program will be under the direction of Mrs. Walter Bailey. Walter Guthrie, Mrs. Pauline Irvin, George Howser and William Kehrwecker.

The arrangements committee announced today that the date has been set as Aug. 2, beginning at 8 p. m. The committee has been assured that several state officials will attend and that prominent speakers will be provided.

William Hamor, chairman of the membership committee, gave a report of progress to date.

A short talk was given by County Representative Earl E. Thomas and Prosecutor James E. Reed discussed the legal angles of the "slow time" controversy.

RAINBOW DIVISION AGAIN CARRIES ON

By The Associated Press

CAMP GRUBER, Okla., July 15 —"Have Faith In Us."

The Rainbow division—25 years after it helped smash the German tide at Champagne—proudly carried its old standard as it pledged itself in these words, to uphold the lustre and traditions of the famed outfit of World War I.

In a solemn ceremony yesterday the division was reactivated and its commander, Brig. Gen. Harry J. Collins, told the hundreds of veterans of the first World war:

"Have faith in us.

"As your battle record is a challenge to us, so will it be a challenge to whatever enemy we may meet in combat.

"We know that. We expect it. And we are glad that it is so."

The reactivated division also heard a message from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who helped organize the original division and named it the Rainbow because it was made up of troops from 26 states.

MacArthur from his southwest Pacific headquarters declared that in the Rainbow division of the first World war one felt "an inherent belief that it could not fail in any mission assigned to it.

"May God bless you and aid you."

Lead ore mined in California and Nevada about 1865, was shipped to Europe for melting and returned to San Francisco for manufacture.

Edwin Arthur Kraft, organist of Cleveland, will be a guest artist in March and on the same program will be Mrs. H. D. Brickley, soprano soloist in the Congregation church of Akron. Mr. Kraft is a fellow in the American Guild of Organists. The season will open with the presentation of a young pianist, Eunice Podi of Cleveland, winner of the Great Lakes district audition at Toledo and a pupil of Frances Kortheuer.

On the junior program in February will be nine-year-old Dolores Holtz, pianist, of Cincinnati, who will be accompanied by her teacher, Alma Betscher of that city. The Christmas program will be by the club chorus directed by L. G. Jones and Miss Wanda McMahan will be in charge of the Study Group program on March 27.

Announcement was made of tryouts in dramatics, voice and piano at the home of the chairman, Mrs. J. C. Woods, on Sept. 13 and the social chariman announced plans for a "pointless" party for all active members on Sept. 20. Mrs. Mills, counselor, announced a meeting of the Juvenile club on July 20.

A letter from Arthur Kellogg, expressing his appreciation of the club's sponsorship of his piano recital, was read by Mrs. William Ackerman Jr., philanthropic chairman, and Mrs. O. D. Anderson announced a continuation of the study of "Music in History" and outlined the study group program for the year.

LUCKY COATIMUNDI. Although he is only a pup coatimundi, this little member of the mob born recently in the Griffith Park Zoo at Los Angeles is a prize to be envied. Named "Cuddles," he's being cuddled (right) by Ann Trinchia. He comes of South American stock.

Class Is Entertained at Home in Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, July 15—Members of the Friendly Folk class of the First Presbyterian church were guests of Miss Grace Weston last evening. Mrs. John Garverick and Mrs. E. R. Hill were assistant hostesses. The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. Joseph Swank.

• • •

Marion McAdoo of Massillon was a guest.

Invasion of Sicily Pleases Bucyrus Man

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 15 — Frank Sanzo, Bucyrus shoe cobbler for 25 years, read with satisfaction of the invasion of his homeland, Sicily and of his home town Licata where a brother and sister still live. "Maybe now my folks have enough to eat," he commented on the allied occupation. Sanzo, who has not had any direct communication with his relatives since the beginning of the war, has learned through indirect sources that four of his sister's seven sons have lost their lives in the war and that two of the remaining three are now among the fighting forces.

Marion Firemen Answer 3 Alarms; Damage $60

Marion firemen answered three calls last night and this morning. The estimated damage in all three totaled $60, Chief T. J. McFarland reported.

A lighted match thrown on some rubbish at the rear of the Thrift market on South Main street started a fire at 10:19 last night. No damage was reported.

An awning burned up at the shoe store of William G. Kraus at 484 West Center street as the result of a lighted match thrown on it. Damage was estimated at $50. The alarm was turned in at 12:51 a. m. today.

Smoking in bed set a mattress on fire resulting in a $10 loss at a rooming house at 163½ North Main street at 6.58 a. m. today.

No. 1 company and the quad truck from Central station answered all three alarms.

"MOM SAYS I'M A HEALTH WARDEN, TOO, BECAUSE I LIKE LOTS OF NABISCO GRAHAMS
AND MILK EVERY DAY!"
NABISCO GRAHAM CRACKERS
ONE POUND

Youngsters love the delicious natural graham flavor of crunchy Nabisco Graham Crackers. And Mother approves because they're such a wholesome and easy-to-digest wartime "energy" food. When you go to buy—look for the Nabisco seal on the red package. It's the sign of quality in all crackers and cookies.

Asphalt Tile

Distinctive, Economical Floors

For Retail Stores, Schools, Churches, Physicians, Dentists, Attorneys Offices, Manufacturing Plant Warehouses, Basement Recreation Rooms—

Old Fort Mills, the U. S. Employment Office, Lords Jewelry Store, Calvary Church Assembly Room, the Children's Room at the Public Library—these and many others right here in Marion are proud of their Armstrong Asphalt Tile Floors.

Wherever an economical floor with a truly luxurious appearance is called for, Armstrong Tile fills the bill most admirably. Surprisingly low in first cost and in upkeep expense, the striking colors of this long wearing material gives the impression of much higher priced floorings.

Easy—Low Cost Upkeep

All the attention this flooring requires is routine sweeping, and occasional washing and waxing. It gives years of trouble-free service without needing any costly refinishing. The inevitable cigarette and match scars can easily be removed. Constant traffic, sliding desks and chairs, won't mar the beauty of this Asphalt Tile. The colors run right through to the back—can't grow dim nor wear off.

Armtsrong Tile is TWELVE TIMES as quiet under foot as hardwood floors.

We shall be glad to give you an estimate on the cost of putting Asphalt Tile in your room. No obligation on your part, of course.

NEW CANNING GUIDE
AT THE SERVICE OF VICTORY GARDENERS

American women this year are turning out by the thousands to can the products of the family Victory Garden, as well as other products available from the market.

Old and new hands at canning are looking for complete canning information. Hunches and guesses are out at least for the duration—food waste must be avoided. In support of that contention, food experts and home economists point to the wide-spread popularity of various publications giving authoritative advice on home-making activities geared to the war.

One of the latest and most interesting of these wartime additions to the "kitchen library" is the "Wartime Canning Guide." Prepared by the foods editors of Better Homes and Gardens magazine, it contains complete information on canning, storage and dehydration, neatly indexed, and is available at B. F. Goodrich Co., 146 S. Main St.

This Guide is a handy envelope that can be hung conveniently on the kitchen wall, contains eight sections, with step-by-step instructions on "how to" can fruits, vegetables, jellies, pickles, etc., how to store food indoors and out, instructions on dehydration, a "canning time-table;" and over 100 labels for marking jars.

Beginners and old timers alike will find many helpful hints in this complete Wartime Canning Guide.

Catholic Group Critical of Working Mothers

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 15—A leader of the Catholic Daughters of America praised the group today for taking a stand against employment of mothers in war jobs.

"We are glad to know you are opposing particularly mothers who leave a family at home," asserted Miss Mary E. McKeogh, national chairman of the organization's social welfare department, in a prepared address.

Delegates to the Catholic Daughters convention adopted a resolution last night declaring "no contribution is made to the successful prosecution of the war by the working mother who leaves her children unsupervised."

Miss McKeogh blamed "the absence of the mother from the home" for "a large per cent of the increase in child delinquency and exhorted the convention to continue sponsoring "the best in the way of care for children whose parents are in defense work * * * and recreation for the older children."

SENT TO LIMA

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., July 15—Thirty days observation at the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane has been ordered for Louis Vernon Hand, 17, Mercer county farm youth, who, authorities said, confessed beating 6-year-old Richard Stober to death July 4 when the boy "razzed" him about his work. Hand pleaded innocent by reason of insanity at his arraignment on a first degree murder charge.

Desserts That Save Time

EYE APPEAL and nutrition in tapioca cream.

TAPIOCA CREAM

1 or 2 egg yolks, 4 cups milk, 1/3 cup quick-cooking tapioca, 4 tablespoons corn syrup, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 or 2 egg whites, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon flavoring.

Saucepan Method: Mix egg yolk with ½ cup milk in saucepan. Add tapioca, corn syrup, salt and remaining milk. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Beat egg white until stiff but not dry; add sugar gradually, beating with rotary egg beater. Stir hot tapioca gradually into egg white. Cool. Mixture thickens as it cools. When slightly cool, stir in flavoring. Chill. Serves 6-8.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Food Editor

Pre-cooked desserts are a life saver for the busy homemaker when she comes to getting dinner at the end of a sultry day.

Summer desserts, made a day or two in advance and left to chill in the refrigerator or cool on the pantry shelf, can be energy-building and appetite-satisfying as well as cool-looking and delicately flavored.

Custards, gelatin treats and members of the pastry clan, fashioned from eggs, milk and summer's bounty of fruits and berries are just right to top off a delicious warm-weather meal.

Duchess Custard

When I have egg yolks left over from angel food cake I make up Duchess Custard and keep it in a covered jar for several days in the refrigerator. It makes a refreshing creamy sauce to serve poured over fresh peaches, pears, or apricots. And sometimes I cover sponge or angel food cake with the custard and then chill it for several hours. When I serve this dessert, I add some fresh or canned cherries for extra zip and color.

Beat 8 egg yolks until thick and lemon colored, stir in 1/3 cup sugar blended with 2 tablespoons flour. Add 3½ cups milk and ¼ teaspoon salt. Cook in double boiler until thick and creamy. Stir frequently. Remove from the heat and beat custard 2 minutes, add 1½ teaspoons vanilla and ¾ teaspoon each of almond and lemon extracts. Stir in 1/3 cup shredded blanched almonds. Store in covered jar in refrigerator to keep a coating from forming over the top. Other nuts can replace the almonds but in that case do not add them until you serve sauce.

If you want a mocha custard and have coffee leftover, use coffee and milk in equal portions for the milk called for. Omit the lemon extract.

Caramel Fluff is a grand dessert and will keep 3 days. Cook slowly 5 minutes in a heavy frying pan, ½ cup dark brown sugar and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add 1½ cups milk. Cook slowly, stirring frequently, until blended. Beat 2 eggs or 4 yolks in upper part double boiler, add ¼ cup flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Blend thoroughly. Add 1/3 cup cream, ½ cup milk and the sugar blend. Cook in double boiler until thick and creamy. Stir frequently. Beat well, add ½ teaspoon vanilla and fold in 1 egg white, beaten. Pour into glass dish. Chill. For extra nutrition when time to serve, sprinkle with 1/3 cup nuts, or cooky crumbs or raisins. This is a very good dessert to use for filling individual tart cases or scooped out cup cakes.

Honey Cream Dessert is wholesome, economical and low in point-rationed foods. Mix together 1/3 cup flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 4 tablespoons honey and ½ cup water. Blend thoroughly and add 1/3 cup peanut butter and 3 cups milk. Cook in double boiler until creamy. Stir frequently. Add 1 egg and cook 2 minutes. Stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla. Cool and chill and serve plain or with cream.

One-Crust Pies, sometimes called deep dish pies, are good keepers. Better in fact than the two crust kind as they sometimes get soggy in the lower crust. I find that this Deep Dish Apple Pie will keep a couple of days when tucked away in the refrigerator. Make up a rich crust, sort of cross between a biscuit and pie dough, using 2 cups of flour. Pat the soft dough out quite thin and place it on top the following apple mixture: Mix together 3 cups sliced apples, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, 2 tablespoons flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Blend thoroughly and pour into a shallow baking pan. Add 2 tablespoons corn sirup, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted, and 1/3 cup water. Add the crust and make four steam holes in the top. Bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Fresh peaches or berries can also be used.

Sauces Become Food - Stretcher

By ALICE DENHOFF

Sauce has stepped from the sidelines to take an important war-time job as a food-stretcher. Yes, we are still concerned mainly with ideas and suggestions and recipes for dishes that are nutritious and in keeping with our country's food program.

Savory Egg Sauce

Grand on toast or over fish or vegetables is a savory egg sauce. Heat ¾ cup milk; blend ¼ cup milk with 2 tablespoons flour to form paste. Add hot milk to paste; cook over hot water until thickened, stirring. Add ¼ teaspoon salt, and 2 tablespoons margarine. Dice 2 hard-cooked eggs, and add 2 tablespoons chopped parsley and a few drops of onion juice. Cook until heated through.

Mushroom sauce dresses up many a plain dish such as meat loaf or patties.

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or other fat with one tablespoon prepared mustard and brown one cup sliced mushrooms slowly in this mixture. Add 2 tablespoons flour and stir until brown; stir in one cup hot milk. Cook until creamy and smooth; season with ½ teaspoon salt, or more if needed.

Shrimp Sauce

Dress up hot rice, noodles or macaroni with a subtly flavored shrimp sauce. Melt 2 tablespoons margarine, and blend in 3 tablespoons flour. Gradually add 1½ cups hot milk, cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thickened. Add ½ teaspoon salt and few grains pepper. Add 8 ounces of cooked shrimp. Fold in one beaten egg. Cook 3 minutes, then serve at once.

Dear Folks:—
Yesterday I received a batch of mail and it was certainly good to get the news from home. Tell Nancy her doll arrived—this time they got it and do they just love it!
Those war bonds I'm buying for me will be money I send home are sure going to come in handy when I get back. KEEP IT UP!
We are now having some rest and it's a welcome after what we have been through. That night we went to town on pass and saw an American movie; it sure was good, it made us realize how much the American way of living is.
Oh yes, Mom, I've gained 9 pounds since I left—Good Old Army Chow!
Must close now, everything is fine with me but to everybody.

Consumers' Coal Stocks Large, but Still Too Small

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 15—Users' stocks of coal, "almost the only material the government urges people to hoard," now are larger "than ever before at this time of the year," Brig. Gen. Leonard P. Ayres noted today, but still "are not large enough."

"People who use coal either in large quantities or in smaller amounts should keep on adding to their stocks," the retired brigadier continued in the Cleveland Trust Co.'s monthly business bulletin. "By doing so they may avoid shortages next winter and they will help relieve demands that will be placed on our overloaded railroads in the autumn."

Most forehanded among important users are electric power producers; "railroads are always urging their shippers to buy their coal early and to keep large stocks on hand, but the roads have not done very well in following their own good advice. At the beginning of June railroads had on hand stocks of coal sufficient for operations during only 39 days. Stocks of retail dealers (28 days) were smallest of all."

The Cleveland economist studied employment figures, noting there now are "less than one million persons "and probably that number cannot be much further reduced. The numbers of men who have been drawn off into the armed forces have just about offset the reductions (eight million) in the numbers of the unemployed."

General Ayres expressed confidence "we are winning the battle of the Atlantic," and said in view of our military triumphs "we should not be unduly depressed by the fact that in this country everything except money gets progressively scarcer."

The first transcontinental telephone line was opened between New York and San Francisco in January, 1915.

ASHLEY PARK TO BE SCENE OF SPIRITUALIST MEETING

Rev. Gertrude Rowe of Jersey City, N. J., in Charge of Program.

Rev. Gertrude Rowe, minister and medium of Jersey City, N. J., will hold an auditorium seance at the Ashley spiritualist camp in Ashley's Woolley park Saturday night, Sunday afternoon she will present a lecture and messages at 2 o'clock and again at 7:30. She will also conduct auditorium seances Tuesday and Thursday nights, and will be available for private seances through Thursday.

The First Temple society of Columbus will conduct Sunday morning services beginning at 10 o'clock, and will hold another service at 4 p. m. A healing service is scheduled for 1 p. m. Sunday, and a message service will be held at the Beech Temple at 8 p. m. by the Medium's club.

Wednesday afternoon and night, the Ladies' Aid will hold a short business meeting and seances. In the afternoon they will assemble at 2 o'clock and 7:30 in the evening.

Miss C. V. Williams of Marion, secretary of the camp board, reported that they have had good attendances for all the services conducted since the opening day July 4.

War Production Reaches New High Mark at Plant of Pollak Steel Company

The article below presents a review of war production in one of Marion's major industrial plants, that of the Pollak Steel Co. Publication has been authorized by the Bureau of Public Relations of the War Department.

* * *

War production activities at the Marion plant of The Pollak Steel company have recently gone to a new high, as a result of relaxations on formerly restricted items and increased requirements on other products, according to R. H. Knecht, works manager.

The mill specializes in the process of rolling standard section railroad rails into several hundred sizes and shapes of steel sections, which find a wide variety of uses in the war program.

Construction Program

The continental U. S. war construction program, which was in full swing a year ago, has eased off in recent months. This program kept the mill well filled for many months and shipments were made in large tonnages to many outstanding projects which have since been completed and are now in full production. Large tonnage also went to Atlantic and Pacific naval air bases. The largest single project in the Ohio territory was the Wright Aeronautical Plant, involving approximately 8,000 tons of reinforced bars. New and unconventional designs and types of construction in widely separated localities are reinforced with bars rolled in the Marion mill, according to W. N. Steinman, chief engineer.

Lend-Lease

Although the domestic war construction program has been curtailed, there is still considerable activity in connection with Lend-Lease construction. Recent shipments have been made under the Lend-Lease program to Iran, French Cameroun, West Africa, French North Africa and New Zealand, for use in vital military construction.

Economic Warfare

Under the direction of the bureau of economic warfare, shipments of large tonnages have also been made to some of our South American "good neighbors" and this type of order will continue for some time to come, in the opinion of sales executives.

Army Cots-Ambulances

The Army has recently placed orders for several hundred thousand hospital cots and the rail steel angles produced by the Marion employes of the Pollak Steel company are being fabricated in connection with this phase of the Army program. Life magazine recently carried photographs of ambulances in North Africa in which products of the Marion mill were in plain view. One of the government arsenals is now processing several carload shipments of Marion rail steel into artillery cart wheels. Robert Campbell, son of Fred Campbell, master mechanic at the Pollak plant, recently wrote his family from an on-the-spot location in a foreign port, in which Robert said: "Tell the boys at the plant to keep up the good work, as I have already had evidence that Pollak steel is on the ball. Yes sir, we have had your stuff to handle." After a few more friendly comments, Robert signed off advising that he was O.K., and with a request to keep the mail coming. Comments from the men at the plant indicate that they expect to keep them rolling for Bob and all the rest of the Marion boys and American service men who are in need of such material in foreign operations. "Keep 'em rolling for invasion" is the new slogan.

Agricultural Program

Everyone is interested in food production for the months ahead. Recent relaxations on production of farm implements has shown up on the tonnage records at the mill, in sizable tonnage requirements for many nationally known farm implement manufacturers. Orders are now in for the third quarter, and fourth quarter's are coming in. Earlier shipments to these manufacturers are now coming off the production lines and will play an important part in the fall harvesting and spring planting.

Along with the relaxation on farm implements came the resumption of production on steel posts, one of the specialties of the Marion plant for agricultural purposes. In order to make way for other more urgently needed materials, steel farm fence posts have not been made or sold by producers for almost two years. With the demand for increased farm production, cattle and dairy products, the American farmer finds his fences in need of extension and repair. In order to meet these increased requirements, production schedules indicate that the Marion mill will assume its full share of seeing that the farmer is amply supplied with this commodity.

Entanglement Posts

For a number of months past, production has been in full swing on several million barbed wire entanglement posts, the very name of which is self-explanatory. Large quantities of these posts have been shipped to distant reconsignment warehouses. Current shipments are being consigned to the Marion Engineer Depot. Officials advise that shipment to a depot so close to home does not indicate any lessening of the urgency of the need. It simply means that the authorities are availing themselves of storage facilities closer to the point of production, where large quantities can be more easily accumulated which can be quickly moved to strategic points, without trying to accumulate them direct from the production lines of the manufacturer. As the plans of Churchill and Roosevelt continue to unfold, there will, obviously, be greater need of this type of product than has been the case up to the present. These posts will also be used in large quantities in preparation of concentration camps for military captives.

The production and raw material facilities of the plant are ample but, like most plants, the manpower problem has been acute. Over 100 regular employes are now in the service. Lt. James E. Pollak, only son of Maurice E. Pollak, president, is assigned to the ordnance department, and Lt. David Pollak is a bomber pilot now in England and Pvt. Julian A. Pollak, Jr. is on duty in foreign service. The latter two are sons of Julian A. Pollak, vice president.

Martin Mohr, personnel manager at the plant, is conducting an active campaign to overcome the manpower shortage.

Garden Expert Says Plows Ruin Crops and Land

By The Associated Press

NORMAN, Okla., July 15—Edward H. Faulkner stakes a crop expert's reputation on this statement:

If the world quits beating its swords into plowshares, it will be a healthier, happier place for everyone.

Faulkner would beat the plowshares into swords—or do anything except plow with them.

Plows are the ruination of the land, he says—and to the doubters he can say "see for yourself" and put his crops on inspection. Did you ever see nature plowing, he asks?

His explanation is simple: deep cultivation (plowing) murders the root system which lift moisture from the subsoil, and hopelessly buries top growth so necessary for other plants to feed upon. While crops will grow, he says his system produces better; furthermore, erosion is the surest result of plowing.

Faulkner uses a disc-harrow instead. It kills weeds and plants which compete with whatever he wants to grow, but leaves carcasses of the killed plants close to the surface for the planned growth. Roots of the snipped plants continue lifting moisture.

He is a county agent, turned experimenter and writer, and his Elyria, Ohio, garden is untouched by plow. There he offers, for example, tomatoes which rank with any. He just harrowed down a three-foot high stand of rye, worked it into the topsoil, and set out tomato plants which he had cleaned of all dirt.

By midafternoon the plants had lifted skyward and by the next morning every one was straight up—no losses. He used no water, either.

Faulkner always had noted the unplowed fields, or wood lots, flourished in droughts — while nearby cultivated fields withered.

What he means is, the gardener can toil and sweat and nurse a plot to scanty maturity—while a few feet away nature boosts the weeds eye-high. Ever notice?

A worker at a California aircraft plant has worked out a machine operation which can be performed by a trainee and triples output.

BUILDS SHIP AT 80
By International News Service

PORTLAND, Ore.—Octogenarians have a right to take life easy, but J. E. Thomas of Portland thinks otherwise. He helps build ships. Thomas, who observed his 80th birthday some time ago, is an expediter on the graveyard shift at the Swan Island shipyard, where 16,500-ton tankers are being built for Uncle Sam. He hopes some of the tankers he helps build may carry supplies to aid his son, Major Robert Thomas of the Marine Corps, who fought on Guadalcanal and is still stationed overseas.

METAL, LUMBER TAKEN FROM STORAGE BUILDING

Series Of Thefts Reported By Storage Concerns.

Theft of lumber and considerable amounts of metal from a storage storage building located west of Uncapher avenue were reported to city police yesterday. The report was made by R. W. Cellars of Mansfield, a representative of a group of men who operate the salvage concern. The thefts he said, have taken place over a period of time extending from April to this month.

The following thefts were reported by Cellars: One thousand feet of insulated copper wire since April; several pieces of two by four lumber and sizeable amount of sheeting since sometime in June; one $65 five horsepower motor since July 1; and some used iron sheets since July 10.

Cellars told police an inventory of the storage building stock is made only at intervals of a month and sometimes two months. Police said this accounts for the discovery of the various thefts at such a relatively long time after they had taken place.

CIO Awaits Results of Price Rollback

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, July 15 — The CIO is withholding a threatened drive to scrap the "little steel" wage formula unless an effective price rollback and food subsidy program was operating by July 15, it's president, Philip Murray, disclosed today.

"It is my understanding now that the President of the United States can exercise the power to demand an effective rollback," Murray declared. "We will await that action."

U. S. Airmen Outfight Japs Eight to One

By The Associated Press

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, July 15—American airmen outfought the Japanese in combat on a ratio of more than 8 to 1 over the Solomon islands during the period from June 30 through July 13, a spokesman for Admiral William F. Halsey Jr., disclosed today.

Japanese losses in bombers and fighters that fortnight, the first of the Americans' central Solomons invasion, were 211. (The American losses were not given officially, but from the ratio stated, it was evident that they numbered about 25.)

Despite their losses, the Japanese still have several hundred planes available for combat in the Solomons area.

Methodist Group Plans "Circus Lawn Festival"

A "circus lawn festival" sponsored by the Youth Fellowship groups of Epworth Methodist church will be held tomorrow night at Our House, 129 South Vine street.

Special features of the event will include a pony show, pony rides, monkey and organ grinder, animal pictures, a variety program with a strong man act, and games including volley ball, horse shoe pitching, shuffle board, tether ball and other sports. A large number of the young people have been at work on arrangements.

Tickets are available from children of the church and Fellowship members.

KISKA BOMBARDED
By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15—The Navy reported today that an American light warship bombarded Japanese defense positions on Kiska island Wednesday, making the fourth surface attack on the enemy base in an eight-day period.

Conscience and Cash

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK — Answering the question: Should a minister take a part-time position in a defense plant?" the religious magazine, Living Church, said, among other things, "only after prolonged and prayerful thought."

And a clergyman from Arizona replied: "It is more than a matter of conscience. It is also a matter of cash.

"With the cost of living gone up 25 to 50 per cent how can we expect our underpaid clergy to meet bills....after all, St. Paul made tents."

British Lend Germs

By The Associated Press

LONDON—A British germ factory, working under a reverse lend-lease agreement, is supplying American troops in Britain and northern Ireland with culture media for fighting typhoid, cholera, dysentery and other diseases and for testing water, says the British Information Services.

The factory is a laboratory of the London County Council where culture media are mass-produced, bottled and sent out to other laboratories throughout the country, including those of the United States, Canadian and British armies.

MARK TIMBER TREES
By International News Service

ITHACA, N. Y. — Since last September the paint guns of five foresters have marked for cutting trees enough to supply five million feet of timber from farm woodlands of New York state. Aim of the service, Extension Forester Joshua A. Cope of the College of Agriculture said today, is to enable farmers to improve their woodlands for future production and at the same time supply sawlogs to meet urgent wartime demands for lumber.

CONTRACT SIGNED BY STEAM SHOVEL CO.

Union Checkoff and Extension of Vacations New Features.

At a regular meeting of Local 1649 of the United Steel Workers of America, CIO, Wednesday night in the union hall on East Center street it was announced that the union's contract with the Marion Steam Shovel Co. has been renewed, effective July 1.

The following changes were made in the contract: (1) union shop and checkoff of union dues and initiation fees, (2) adoption of the incentive plan and an increase in night bonus from three to five cents an hour, (3) vacations with pay increased from one to two weeks after seven years of employment and (4) changing from a yearly contract to a continuous contract with stipulations of opening, amending or terminating. The second and third provisions are subject to approval by the WLB.

Installation of the following officers highlighted the meeting: Howard Minor, president, Harold Townsend, vice president; Larry May, recording secretary; Orville Leven, financial secretary; William Davis, treasurer; Milo Snyder, guide; L. B. McFarland, inside guard and chaplain, Ed Bowen, outside guard; Joseph M. Bowler, journal agent, and Ted Jackson, trustee.

The organization also voted to support the day nursery which opened July 5.

New Orders Restrict Use of Newsprint

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 15—New orders restricting the use of newsprint by publishers were ordered by the war production board (WPB) today in an effort to conserve the paper supply.

The new orders apply to publishers using newsprint, order only what they consume and keep on hand only a 15-day supply.

The instructions apply to orders issued for August delivery and henceforth.

Hi-Y Club Maps Year's Program

Plans for new standards, membership eligibility and general outline of club organization for the coming school year were discussed at the second in a series of summer meetings of the Hi-Y club of the class of 1944 of Harding High school at the Y.M.C.A. last night. Under the supervision of Max Sechrist, boys' summer program director of the Y, members decided to set up the membership requirements of all three Harding Hi-Y's during the 1943-44 school year. Plans were also made to remodel and furnish a presently vacant Y room to be used as a Hi-Y club room next year.

Keep Perspiring Feet Dry and Sweet

Excessive perspiration often makes your feet uncomfortable — socks or stockings damp, as well as causing disagreeable foot odors. Try dusting your feet and shoes with Allen's Foot-Ease. If you are breaking in a new pair of shoes or if you are wearing an ill-fitting tight pair, there's nothing like Allen's Foot-Ease to relieve the friction that makes feet feel so uncomfortable. For real foot comfort, be sure to ask for Allen's Foot-Ease today! At all druggists.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. For the kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MAXON

direction of the stabilization act and maintain the general relationship and levels of prices and wages as of Sept. 15, 1942. In cooperation with the other agencies we are aiming at this goal. There has been a six per cent rise since September 15 with a one per cent decline the last month. We have hoped for a further decline when the current figures are released."

To Maxon's statement that some people in OPA think the government should take over manufacture and distribution of all commodities, Brown said:

"I have never heard any such proposals by any individual and certainly there is absolutely no intention on the part of this office to undertake any such control. Price administration operates under law. The life of the agency expires on June 30, 1944 and can only be renewed by congressional enactment. There is nothing to this charge."

Brown announced appointment of Chester Bowles, OPA's state administrator for Connecticut, as the No. 2 official of OPA. Bowles will become senior deputy administrator, and a sort of "general manager" for the organization.

Asked the prospects of further gasoline restrictions in the midwest, Brown said such action would be taken if it became apparent that it would result in increased supplies in the east and equalizing of the "unfair burden" on the Atlantic seaboard.

Dynamic, red-haired Lou R. Maxon, Detroit advertising executive who bounded into Washington several months ago full of confidence that he was just what the office of price administration (OPA) needed, bounced right out today with the firm conviction that Houdini himself couldn't untangle OPA'S "legalistic red tape."

All that remained on his once busy desk were a Washington street car token and a partly-filled bottle of eye-wash.

A secretary who handed out Maxon's farewell statement last night, in which he criticized "confusion, indecision, compromise, miles of legalistic red tape, and the presence of theorists in policy-making positions," said she attached no significance whatever to these mementoes.

After weeks of consultation, also reached the conclusion that I cannot accept the position of general manager of OPA and have also reached the conclusion that I cannot continue to be associated with OPA in any capacity."

Denied Authority

Maxon had demanded that he be given almost absolute powers over policy and personnel, and his resignation "as of this date" was taken to mean that Price Administrator Prentiss Brown refused to agree to a setup that would have left him little more than a figurehead.

Almost from the day of his arrival as a non-salaried deputy administrator in charge of public relations, Maxon found himself in sharp conflict with other key figures in OPA—"professors and "slide-rule boys," he called them.

J. Kenneth Galbraith, deputy administrator in charge of prices, quit after a row with Maxon, but most of the others whom he had criticized still are there.

What OPA needs, Maxon contended, is "a drastic reorganization, a strong, clear direction, and a liberal transfusion of common horse sense."

"Only those steps," his statement continued, "can rebuild the morale of the agency, and provide the leadership which the thousands of volunteer workers for this agency so desperately need throughout the country. • • •"

Maxon asserted that a "strong clique" in OPA believes the government "should manufacture and distribute all commodities," and said they were "using the war as a means of furthering their reform ideas and will continue to use honest men in OPA as a front for their efforts."

"If this group isn't curbed," he said, "we are going to lose a good slice of the very freedom we are fighting for."

Writer Has Trouble Keeping Up with Canadian Front Line

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press
War Correspondent
(Distributed by The Associated Press)

ON THE CANADIAN FRONT in SOUTHEAST SICILY, July 13—(Delayed)—With Italians surrendering in droves and towns capitulating with scarcely any fight, these first three days of the amazing Sicilian campaign have been a sweep for Canadians in this sector.

I finally caught up with the fast-moving frontline troops yesterday afternoon in a jeep after pursuing them afoot for two days and they were sitting atop the world.

Even the commanders were surprised by the meager defense the Italians were making for their homeland.

The Canadians have taken every advantage of the weak stand of the enemy, and American and British troops are having equal successes.

Victory March

It has been a victory march so far through the vineyards, olive groves and plantations and over chalk dust roads of this part of Sicily but there may be trouble ahead.

With a few battalion actions and numerous skirmishes the Canadians have pushed inland more than 30 miles now and they are getting a breather before the next phase of this Allied operation.

Every town in the Canadians' path has fallen without major fighting.

After two and one-half practically sleepless days trying unsuccessfully to keep up with the infantry on foot, I got hold of a jeep yesterday and zoomed toward the front in the wake of the victorious Canucks.

Along the road to Ispica we saw smashed horse-drawn Italian guns and ammunition wagons. Pillboxes and road blocks were piles of rubble after being shattered by our guns.

But for the presence of a few snipers in vineyards and on hills the countryside was peaceful.

Canadians were everywhere, columns marching forward and convoys of trucks and guns rolling through the fog of chalk dust. We are all covered with this white dust.

Dive-Bombing Mosquitos

We do not know which is worst, the heat, the flies, the dust or the mosquitos, the latter being the best dive-bombers we've seen round these parts.

We went into Ispica, population 13,000 normally, and only a few women, children and dogs were on the street.

The town had been knocked about by navy gunfire and rubble littered the narrow streets and one wide avenue.

There were many painted signs on the walls reading ironically "Evviva Il Duce" and "Duce A Noi."

(The latter is a Fascist rallying cry; the former means "long live, Il Duce.")

The reaction of the Italian civilians has been rather surprising. We expected they might be sullen and completely uncooperative but it has not been like that. Perhaps they are faking but when the Canadians pass through the towns dozens of citizens stand on the sidewalks and give the "V for victory" sign, clap their hands and grin as if it were an Italian celebration.

In Modica a dead Canadian was lying by the roadside and the Italians had draped the body with a white sheet and placed flowers on it.

Newsom, Traded to Browns, Threatens To Quit Baseball As Dodger Row Continues

Rickey Backs Durocher, Giving His Star Pitcher the Gate; Bobo Declares He Won't Report to St. Louis.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fireworks still are popping among the Brooklyn Dodgers and that loud noise you heard last night was Louis Norman (Bobo) Newsom exploding as he was bounced out of the Brooklyn baseball parlor.

The latest repercussions from the Dodgers' family feud were a statement by Branch Rickey, president of the club, that he would support Manager Leo Durocher in the latter and an announcement that Newsom, the cause celebre of last week's rebellion, had been traded to the St. Louis Browns for a pair of antiquated southpaws, Fritz Ostermueller and Archie McKain.

Newsom, never at loss for words, roared in defiance:

"I don't want to play in St. Louis. I won't play in St. Louis and I'm not going to report.

"I got the dirtiest deal any ball player ever got. I've been the goat all the way through this thing. I guess I'll have to quit and I will quit before reporting to St. Louis. I heard about this only yesterday afternoon and I offered to buy my release from the Brooklyn club, but was refused."

Whether the boisterous Bobo goes through with his threat remains to be seen. Changing uniforms is no novelty to him for even before today he was the most traded pitcher in the big leagues and in 13 seasons in the National and American leagues had played variously with Brooklyn, the Chicago Cubs, Boston Red Sox, Detroit Tigers, Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns. In fact, during his long career he had been with the Browns, Brooklyn and Washington twice each.

Newsom, if he reports, should help the Browns. He won 20 games for them in both 1938 and 1939 and and in 1940 he won 21 and lost only 5 in leading Detroit to the American league pennant.

His pitching this year has been the most consistent of any of the Dodger hurlers and his present record of nine victories of any of the Dodger hurlers and his present record of nine victories and four defeats is one of the best in the National league. Although the Dodgers need southpaws, Ostermueller and McKain, both veterans now relegated to relief roles, cannot be expected to match Newsom's work.

But Rickey felt that either Durocher or Newsom would have to go as the result of the insurrection of the players last Saturday, when they revolted because Newsom had been suspended last Saturday for what the manager later termed "general insubordination" and more specifically described as refusal to follow pitching instructions.

Just how the players, who revolted over a three-day suspension for Newsom, would react to the banishment of their star pitcher was a problem which puzzled some observers.

In any case the blow-up apparently has blasted any Brooklyn hopes of winning the National league pennant and it was enough to make even the stoutest Dodgers take to a sick bed. Literally it did, because Rickey was confined to his bedroom all day yesterday by an attack of indigestion.

The 1942 California lamb crop increase is estimated at 2,178,000 head.

BREWERS MAKE BIG INNINGS A HABIT

Twice in Two Days They Put on Splurge To Win.

By The Associated Press

Three and five-run innings seem to be becoming a part of Marty Grimm's baseball team with the Milwaukee Brewers. Twice in two days those Brewers, in the final frame, have picked up the games in favor of the Brewers, and the latest put the Milwaukee in undisputed first place in the American association.

After losing Indianapolis' split with Kansas City, the Brewers last night regained the association lead by defeating the Louisville Colonels 10 to 5, in 12 innings.

It was a good ball game for 11 innings.

In the 12th, however, Grimm put his boys to work. They loaded the bases on a hit batsman, a single and a walk, and Tommy York tripled to send all men home. Hershel Martin followed with a double scoring York, and Gary Clarke added a single to bring Martin home.

The Indians, meanwhile, ran into the same kind of rough stuff in the first game at Kansas City, when the Blues sent 13 men to bat and netted eight runs in a big fourth inning which saw Roy Zimmerman hitting two doubles. The Blues won that one, 9 to 2, but the Tribe picked up a 7 to 3 decision in the second.

Fred Sanford lifted the fourth-place Toledo Mudhens a notch above the .500 level by turning in a two-hit shutout against St. Paul for a 4 to 0 victory.

Columbus was blocked out of a chance to gain a half game on Indianapolis when young Lou Carpenter of Minneapolis hurled an effective game, allowing nine scattered hits for an 8 to 4 triumph.

Millisor Gets Fifth League Win As Huber Beats General

Victory Marked Same Number of Wins for Team; Engineers Defeat Waldo Dodgers, 11 to 4.

Harold Millisor pitched his own and Huber's fifth consecutive Industrial league victory of the season at McKinley park last night as the Threshers went a half game further into the loop lead by defeating General Excavator 5 to 1. The Marion Engineer Depot Industrial league entry whipped the Waldo Dodgers 11 to 4 at Lincoln park in a non-count Industrial - Commercial game.

Eight strikeouts were chalked up by Millisor as he took his seventh win (including league and non-league games) of the year. For once, the big Huber moundsman did not give out one walk to opposing batters. However, he was bested by Excavator pitchers Sycks and Hecker in the number of hits allowed. The digger pitchers were touched for five hits between them while six safeties were made off the slants of Millisor.

One Extra Base Hit

Key to the Huber win was found in the uncertain control of the two Excavator pitchers who presented eight walks to the keen-eyed Hubertes. Certainly it was not the powerful batting of Huber that was the decisive factor in the win, for only one extra base hit was made by the Threshers during the entire seven innings. That was a double by Ralph Miley, shortstop, in the second stanza.

The fifty Huber inning was the biggest frame of the contest. Howison and Miley started off this inning with walks. Armbruster and Ted Anderson singled, accounting for two of the tallies and a Digger error let in the third run.

The Depot team, beaten badly by every other Industrial loop team and by Coca-Cola, will probably have to content itself with defeating the Dodgers. The first Engineer win of the season was scored against the same Waldo team during the first part of the summer. The Depot was forced to wait until last night to win its second game, again trouncing the Dodgers who forgot to dodge.

Lead With Homers

Wilson and Hindman, engineer third baseman and short centerfielder, respectively, led the Depot win with homers. Wilson, lead-off man in the bottom half of the first, homered with the sacks empty, and Hindman, first man up in the second, walloped a circuit blow again with no one on.

Sparks, Engineer hurler, struck out three and walked the same number. Denman and Salyer, Waldo flingers, fanned three Engineers and walked not a single stick-waver.

Score by Innings:

Then Go to Philadelphia for Eastern Tour.

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 15—The six Cleveland contributions to the American league All-Star team rejoin their Tribe to open a five-game series with the Browns today.

After the series here, the Indians move back to Philadelphia's All-Star game stadium to launch the season's second eastern trip next week.

Without the services of the All-Star delegation—Lou Boudreau, Ken Keltner, Buddy Rosar, Jeff Heath, Jim Bagby and Al Smith the Indians dropped a 1 to 0 decision to Lambert Field Naval Air station in an exhibition game yesterday.

Hal Schumacher, ex-New York Giant flinger, was the Lambert pitcher and allowed only three hits. Mel Harder started on the mound for the Tribe, allowing four hits in three innings, and was relieved by Ray Poat, who gave up two singles in five innings.

Huber and Cooler Game To Be Played Tuesday

The classy clash between the Huber Threshers and Universal Cooler, called at the end of the fourth inning Tuesday night, will be replayed Wednesday night at McKinley park, Max Sechrist, acting secretary of city softball commission, announced today. The score was knotted 0 to 0 when play stopped. The rescheduled tilt should be "the" game of the 1943 Industrial league season as Huber is in first place, one game ahead of the rising Cooler team.

Another rescheduled game, a Sunday School league contest between Greenwood and Presbyterian, will also be played Wednesday at Garfield park. This game was postponed Monday since most of the Greenie players were out of town attending a summer church camp.

Reds Meet Cubs In Night Game at Home

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 15 — The Cincinnati Reds, back from a fair Philadelphia ending to a bad eastern tour take on the Chicago Cubs tonight in the first of a four-game series.

Elmer Riddle, seeking his 12th victory, is the Reds' likely pitcher, against either Hiram Bithorn or Claude Passeau.

The Reds have won five of their eight games with the Cubs this year.

FIGHTING SCOT WINS EARLY AT RANDALL

3-Year-Old Pacers in Spotlight Today.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 15 —Trotting smoothly and well ahead of a sparse field, Fighting Scot sped to victory in the $3,700 National stake at North Randall yesterday, highlight of the day's Grand Circuit meeting.

Three-year-old pacers take the limelight today, in the $2,280 championship stallion stake and the William Hinkes 2:14 stake for pacers, a $1,000 event. Two trotting races, 2:08 and 2:14 class, complete the program.

Tommy Berry piloted the Fighting Scot yesterday as the son of Scotland romped in ahead of Yankee Maid in the first heat and then bested Rilda Mite in the finale.

A surprise winner was Princess Smith, who finished third and fourth in opening heats of the $1,000 Tanglewood stake and then pounded home in the third and runoff heat, paying $41 for $2 in her third spin. Chuck Signal and War Glory split victories in the first two whirls.

The $1,000 Edwards pacing stake went four heats. Supreme Hal, after finishing second twice, dashed home in 2:02½ to win the third heat, set a new track record and necessitate a runoff. Supreme Hal had little trouble winning the runoff.

The highly favored Eddie D won the first and finished third, second and third in the remainder.

Another Successful PUBLIC SALE

I take great pleasure in extending my sincere thanks and best wishes to each of you who attended my sale which was held on the Harry Bender farm, 2 miles north of Waldo, July 12. Many said it was as large a crowd as they ever saw attend a sale this time of year. I certainly feel grateful to each of you for your attendance and good bidding. It is a pleasure for me to recommend Cole, F. E. Williams and C. B. Purdy as auctioneers who know how to handle your farm sale in a business like manner and know the value of your personal property—and the system used by Col. Williams at clerk and cashier assures the owner of a correct settlement after the sale. Many of the buyers expressed their appreciation to me for the way my sale was handled by the auctioneers and cashier—So again I say thanks to all for your kindness. I am leaving for service Saturday. Will be seeing you when victory is ours."

EARL BENZLER

We Thank You

Yes, we are glad to say "we thank you" to the people from Marion and all adjoining counties who attended the Earl Benzler sale, Tuesday, July 13. It is certainly a pleasure to sell and settle up a sale where we have such fine people to deal with as you who attended this sale were.

STOCKS TURN LOWER TODAY

Many Leaders Fail To Hurdle Barrier of Profit Selling.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 15 — The stock market had to contend with further mild profit garnering today and, while scattered favorites managed to hurdle this barrier with fair success, many leaders rested at slightly lower levels.

Battle news from virtually all fronts still was encouraging to bullish forces but the 16-months' upswing to peaks for nearly four years brought thoughts of a possible temporary correction.

Among issues registering tops for 1943 or longer were Ohio Oil, Du Pont and Allied Chemical. Supported were Pennsylvania, Pepsi-Cola, American Telephone, American Can, Anaconda, International Nickel, Pure Oil and J. C. Penney.

Conferences of administration officials on the petroleum situation and its relation to the world conflict aided oil securities.

SOFTENING-UP of enemy airfields is exemplified perfectly in these photos taken of the axis field at Milo, Sicily, while Allied planes were engaged in eliminating air opposition to the invasion of the island. Top photo shows the field as it appeared before the arrival of U. S. bombers, with enemy planes scattered across the surface. When the bombers finished, however, the field was left in ruins, lower photo, bomb craters pocking it, most of planes and hangars destroyed. Official United States Army Air forces photos.

GRAIN PRICES DROP UNDER PRESSURE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 15 — Grains were under steady and persistent pressure today, wheat and oats dropping more than a cent at times while losses in rye ranged to about 2 cents.

Hedging in wheat expanded and trade reports said producers appeared to be in a mood to sell as long as prices on the new crop remained above the loan level. Weakness at Minneapolis was a factor in unsettling the local market and crop reports for the northwest were generally favorable.

Commando Practice

By The Associated Press

CAMP PENDLETON, VA. — There was no complaint from the soldiers or the local jitterbugs during what was probably this nation's first "Blackout Ball." Soldiers who wanted to cut in lit matches and took a quick look at the girl. The escort would then hear a voice ask for the dance, and he'd lose his partner in the dark.

WOMEN KEEP PLANTS BUSY

More Than 100 Types of Jobs Now Handled by Feminine Workers.

By International News Service

WASHINGTON—"The woman with the broom," who takes over the women war worker's cleaning or cares for her children, is doing an important war job by helping to keep production going, a committee of the War Manpower Commission declared.

More than 100 everyday jobs, un-glamorous, but as vital to the war as work in an aircraft plant, shipyard, or munitions factory, were listed by the Women's Advisory Committee as "war jobs for women."

Release Skilled Workers

War production workers are released for their skilled positions by these women, who help in grocery stores, clear tables in restaurants and accept ordinary or humble jobs in other necessary community services, Miss Margaret Hickey, Chairman of the Women's Advisory Committee said. "War work is more than work in a factory," she emphasized.

Announcing the list, the committee stressed that the nation looks to its women to do this war work, which is of utmost importance.

Jobs Women Can Fill

Figures cited by the Committee show that of the 18,000,000 women who will be working by the end of the year, fully two-thirds will be needed in civilian trades and services. Women who fill the following jobs, the Committee pointed out, will release men for the armed forces and experienced women workers for more skilled jobs:

Communications: telegraph messenger; telegraph, telephone, and teletype operator; radio technician.

Transportation: ticket taker, baggage clerks, information clerk, bus, truck and taxi driver; stewardess; conductor; engine wiper, filling station attendant; garage mechanic.

Agriculture: canning plant worker; dairy worker; fruit picker; poultry farm worker; truck farmer; meat packing plant worker.

Organized child care for war workers: managers, maids, laundresses, cooks, nurses, recreation leaders, psychologists, social workers.

Personal services for war workers: shopping, house-cleaning, washing cooking, receptionist, clerk, foster-care of young children.

Retail trade: store clerk, stock girl, wrapper, buyer, grocery store cashier.

Service trades: tailors, seamstresses, clothes repair services, household worker, typewriter repair, plumbers, carpenters.

Tag Team Match Feature of Mat Program Tonight

A tag team, currently wrestling's most entertaining type of entertainment, with Rene LaBell and Larry Kasaboski pitted against Count Carl Von Lehman and Fred Carone will highlight tonight's mat program at the Armory arena on West Church street.

The youthful Canadian stars have proven to be among the most competent performers to appear in the Armory ring in several months. Both are exceptionally fast, but LaBell holds a slight advantage in this department over the heavier Kasaboski. Both fighters have appeared regularly in main events in Marion, Columbus, Toledo and a score of other midwest fight towns.

Of the two LaBell has turned out to be the toughest. His lightning-like speed has been responsible for a dozen or more victories over more-heralded mat figures. But Kasabosko has a similar career in the local ring. He has battled frequently since last winter and a majority of the time has been the winner. Tonight's try with Kasaboski will be his first Marion appearance in a tag team squabble.

In Carone and Von Lehman the Canadian striplings tackle a pair of bone-bruising toughies. Carone is a familiar figure here but Carl the Count has fought only two or three times. He was supposed to have tackled Buddy Knox in last Thursday's program but Knox was delayed in Columbus.

Scheduled to provide the one-hour semi-final match entertainment are Silent Pedro Gomez, a mute Mexican hailing from Mexico City, and Knox.

Ashley Dog Owner Is Fined $50 and Costs

Clarence Wilson of Ashley was found guilty on a charge of cruelty to animals in municipal court Tuesday and was fined $50 and costs by Judge Hazen. He was arrested about two weeks ago by Elmer Ullom, county dog warden, who had received reports from Martel residents of Wilson's alleged cruelty to his dog. They said the dog had been imprisoned in a house two weeks without food or water excepting for two intervals. The dog was later impounded by Ullom.

Neat Welding Job

By The Associated Press

WITH THE SECOND ARMY IN TENNESSEE—Mama Nature went in for fancy electric spot welding here during a problem recently but an unidentified soldier failed to appreciate the demonstration. The doughboy had fixed himself up on the ground in his waterproof sleeping bag and was catching a little shut-eye in spite of a heavy rainstorm. There was a blinding flash and a loud crash followed by loud yells and violent wriggling from the soldier. Lightning had struck the zipper of the sleeping bag and had run all the way around it, welding him in. His buddies had to slit the bag with knives to get him out.

Tact comes as much from goodness of heart as from fineness of taste.—(Endymion).

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

I DO not think I ever had a more distasteful task than the "frisking" of Ruth Hayes. But I did a thorough job even though my flesh revolted at touching the despicable woman, and I was aware of her venomous hatred, so strong that it seemed to be exuding from her every pore.

"That is all I am sure," I said finally, stepping back from her.

"Nice little arsenal," Lorey commented, examining a second pistol and three different sizes of stiletto which the "Wilderness Woman" had concealed upon her person.

I saw a sudden avid flash in her eyes, and fairly screamed at my husband.

"Don't touch the points of those stilettos! I'm sure they are poisoned!"

Ruth Hayes laughed harshly, but her mirth was edged with suppressed fury.

"Such an imagination!" she sneered. "No wonder you write plays. But I should think real operas—the kind with spice in them—would be more in your line."

"Perhaps she's just getting material for one," Dicky suggested airily, as he wrapped the stiletto carefully in paper. Then as he put them with the gun into the closet where I had deposited the first gun he had taken from her.

Outrageously locking the closet door, he walked to my desk, put the key in it and then locked the desk, putting its key into his pocket. But before he had finished, Ruth Hayes snapped out an angry question, which I guessed, held distinct uneasiness.

"What do you mean by that crack?" she demanded.

Ruth Is Released

"Oh nothing, nothing at all!" Dicky replied. "It just seemed required at that point by the script. Sorry it annoyed you. And now, I shall be delighted to release your wrists and ankles. Hold them out, please. Madge, stand back out of kicking distance. I don't trust this baby."

If looks could kill, Dicky and I would no longer be in the land of the living. But as I moved away, obeying Dicky's directions, she took her venom out in words.

"Don't worry!" she said. "I wouldn't soil my shoes on her."

"I warned you before," Dicky said. "One more word and I gag you while my wife paddles you."

His words must have carried conviction for she fell suddenly silent, and Dicky untied her wrists and anzles.

"There!" he said. "That job is finished, and I am also finished with you. The door is over there. You can find your way out, and no doubt can locate your gentlemanly escorts."

She's Not Through

"But I'm not finished," Ruth Hayes announced, getting to her feet while both Dicky and I watched her warily. "I came here to find out something, and I want it. You two bullies have made it impossible for me to get it tonight, but you pride yourselves on keeping your word, I believe."

She whirled, pointing her forefinger at me.

"In that telegram," she said, "you promised me that Katharine Bickett would be at the place I designated tomorrow night at the same time."

I looked at her with cold steadiness.

"She will be there," I said, "if you still want her there."

"What do you mean by that?" she demanded.

"It ought to be obvious," Dicky remarked. "You ought to know, from what I have told you tonight, that Katharine knows nothing of her husband's whereabouts. Therefore, there is no possible reason why you should wish to see her."

Wants To Hear Katharine

"You don't think I believe that rot you told me," she snapped. "I want to hear what Katharine herself has to say, and if you keep your word, she'll be over."

"I promise you she shall be there, unless you send word before then that the appointment is cancelled," I told her, and with that she whirled and darted toward the double doors leading out on the balcony.

Dicky made no move to stop her, but gave me a direction person-fashion, out of the corner of his mouth, which I promptly obeyed.

"Stop her, Dicky!" I screamed. "She means to jump from the balcony!"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Cancer Delays Costly

THE MEDICAL profession has been preaching for nearly fifty years that the great majority of cancerous growths are curable if only are taken early. One would think that this was a fairly easy and advantageous health rule to follow.

It is literally true that month by month the possibility of complete removal of any form of these new growths diminishes in a definite arithmetical progression. It is also true that the great majority of these growths are local at first and only become generalized later on. Why, then, should any one delay treatment at the earliest possible time?

The American Society for the Control of Cancer has collected some figures which show where the responsibility lies. In a series of 158 cases in which the patient presented himself too late for successful treatment, the patient was responsible in 55 per cent, the physician in 17 per cent, and both patient and physician were responsible in the remaining, over 27 per cent.

The average delay in this series was eight and one-half months. That is, delay in starting treatment after the condition could have been adequately diagnosed.

Some of the figures are illuminating. In cancer of the face and skin the patient was responsible in 12 per cent of cases, the physician was responsible for delay in no cases, and both physician and patient were responsible for delay in 3 per cent of cases; the average period of delay was over 12 months. In breast cancer the patient was responsible in 18 per cent of cases, the physician alone was responsible in 3 per cent, and the physician and patient were responsible in 2 per cent; the average delay was 12 months.

Reasons for delay were: The patient did not consider the symptoms serious enough. This occurred in more than one-half of cases. Pure negligence accounted for 11 per cent of delays, expense for 10 per cent, fear of cancer, 1 per cent, fear of doctors, 1½ per cent, treatment by cultists or those who promised non-operative treatment, 1½ per cent.

I am not surprised that delay occurred in a large number of cases of cancer of the stomach and of the large bowel. These begin so insidiously that I have known a number of doctors who succumbed to them simply because there were no early symptoms.

In another group of cases the condition is apparently more or less generalized from the beginning. I judge that this happens in about 5 per cent of all cases belonging to such groups as those we call sarcoma in children. In another group of true cancers there is apparently some change in the body chemistry which absolutely dooms the patient to recurrence of spread by the blood and lymph stream, and these are more or less hopeless. But in 60 per cent of cases the condition is local from the beginning and could be cured by early treatment. In this group belong most cases of cancer of the skin and of the breast, as shown in the statistics given above. Doctors are seldom responsible in this class of case.

Most of these growths on the skin can be removed by the X-ray or by radium, entirely painlessly, and with no hospitalization.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. F.: I hear that tomatoes cause rheumatism. Is this true?

Answer: No, tomatoes do not cause anything bad.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, July 16

THE AFFAIRS of this day may be expected to move at high tempo, with possibly much excitement, commotion and thrills, in whatever direction the energies, resources, opportunities and ambitions may be turned by powerful planetary influence. Both practical, business, industrial and every-day affairs are under high pressure for constructive action and the personal life runs in quite as decisive, dramatic and spectacular grooves. In fact the romantic and emotional may be the inspiration for heightened activity.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of exciting and dramatic adventures, creating high tension and excitement both in the home and business associations. In the latter it is advised to push all matters to decisive goals as there is prospect of constructive and lucrative work by quick and determined attack. In the realm of the emotional or affectional life there may be sudden and unforeseen developments, with celebrations, parties or other exciting functions, giving great joy and gratification, albiet much domestic tumult, annoyance or friction.

A child born on this day may have much skill and ability in practical matters, with much to be gained by its skill, determination and enterprise. Its emotional or affectional life may be just as dramatic and exciting, possibly with some storms and stresses.
